U.S. Assigning Nearly New Army In Viet Conflict

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States is putting pretty much of a new army into battle in Viet Nam this summer.

It is just about a year since American troops arrived in sizable numbers and began building up to the present 271,000-man force.

Many to Come Home

Now, and during the coming two or three months, many of these troops will be returning home after one-year tours of duty.

But the troop turnover will be neither sudden nor complete.

The army intentionally staggered its replacements. It sent here some draftees who had as little as two or three months to go to complete their two-year Army service. Others had five or six months to serve. Thus, these soldiers are replaced in less than a full year.

As an additional shock absorber, replacements are made by individual soldiers rather than whole units.

Hence, any given unit may receive a lot of new faces—as some have recently—but there still be a sprinkling of combat veterans on hand.

Will Swear in Chief Today To Control Argentine Junta

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Lt. Gen. Juan Carlos Onganía, a former army chief, is to be sworn in today as head of a new military regime which hopes to win over some of the Argentine masses still loyal to Juan D. Peron.

Onganía, 52, was picked by a three-man military junta made up of the present commanders of the army, navy and air force. They took control Tuesday after the army overthrew the civilian government of President Arturo Illia in a bloodless overnight coup.

The military gave no indication how long it intends to remain in power. Veteran observers predicted it will be several years before it permits election of another civilian regime.

The military, which overthrew Peron and sent him into exile in 1955, is determined to prevent the Peronists from returning to power. Its chief grievance against Illia was his failure to reduce the strength of Peron's followers, who won control of three of Argentina's 22

Tanker Explodes Again, 4 Killed In Harbor Blast

NEW YORK (AP) — Like a deadly echo of disaster, the volatile cargo of a British tanker has again exploded and burned in New York harbor, adding at least four deaths to the toll of 33 in a harbor collision June 16.

This time the 11,252-ton Alva Cape was stricken at anchor off Brooklyn, while the remains of its naphtha cargo were being removed.

A new flash of flame seared the Alva Cape's already scarred hull Tuesday and there was fear of a greater disaster until a tug bravely pushed the barge unloading the naphtha away from the flames.

Mayor John V. Lindsay flew over the scene in a helicopter — as he had after the June 16 collision — and said he would yank the Alva Cape's removal from the harbor as a continuing menace to navigation.

Besides the four known dead in Tuesday's explosion, nine were injured and three were missing.

News of the new disaster was carried to a Coast Guard inquiry seeking the cause of the Alva Cape's collision with the American tanker Jaxaco McSachusettis in the Kill van Kull pots three miles from the center of Hanoi and in the dock area of Haiphong.

The pilots reported the raids were "highly successful" with both storage areas in flames. Smoke rose 35,000 feet from the complex of fuel tanks near Hanoi and 20,000 feet from the Haiphong tanks, a U.S. spokesman said.

Target Saturated
The Hanoi target "was covered like a blanket," he reported.

The U.S. Air Force announced one plane, an F105 Thunderchief fighter-bomber, fell in the attack near Hanoi and the pilot was missing. This came out after a communiqué of the U.S. command had reported "no U.S. aircraft were lost in either strike."

Radio Hanoi claimed seven planes were shot down — four near Hanoi and three in the Haiphong area — and several U.S. pilots were captured.

The air offensive in the Communist north, now in its 16th month, completely dominated the U.S. Command's daily war report.

In South Viet Nam, where thousands of U.S. troops are in the field searching for the Communists, "only very light and scattered, minor contacts" were reported.

Threat Diminished
On the political front, the threat of a Buddhist boycott of South Viet Nam's September elections diminished as more monks rallied behind the conciliatory policy espoused by the moderate chairman of the Buddhist Institute.

The growing support in the Buddhist hierarchy for Thich Tam Chau left his militant rival, Thich Tri Quang, increasingly isolated, but Quang showed no signs of abandoning

McNamara Says Air Strikes Are Very Successful

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today U.S. planes hit Hanoi-Haiphong oil depots today to make North Viet Nam's infiltration of the south "more costly."

He portrayed the raids as highly successful.

McNamara said "every effort was made to prevent harm to civilians and to prevent destruction of nonmilitary facilities."

He told a broadcast and television news conference the decision to strike the petroleum facilities was made by President Johnson on his recommendation and that of Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

McNamara said "the decision to strike these targets was made to restrict and make more costly the enemy's infiltration" of South Viet Nam.

Another objective, he said,

RAYMOND VAN BUREN

Former Kingston Chief Succumbs, Retired in 1958

Former Kingston Police Chief Raymond Van Buren, 73, of 78 Andrew Street, died Tuesday at Albany Veterans Administration Hospital where he had been a patient since May 16.

Born in Poughkeepsie Oct. 20, 1892, he was the son of the late Peter and Cora Snyder Van Buren.

'Lost a Friend'

Chief Robert F. Murphy who succeeded him said of former Chief Van Buren: "He was well liked by all men of the department as well as of the people of the city. My loss is one deeply felt because I have lost a lifelong friend."

Van Buren was appointed a patrolman with the Kingston Police Department on May 29, 1921. He was promoted to the rank of sergeant on Sept. 1, 1937.

He was made acting lieutenant on May 1, 1946, receiving his regular appointment as lieutenant November 1, of that year. The same day he became lieutenant he was made acting captain of the department. His permanent appointment as captain was Aug. 21, 1947.

Van Buren became acting chief of police Nov. 15, 1947, after Police Chief Ernest A. Boss was fatally injured in an automobile accident in the city. He was appointed chief of police on May 20, 1948, and had held the position until his retirement in 1958 after a stormy probe of the local force.

Lauded By Mayor
At the time of his retirement then Mayor Edwin F. Radel commended the chief for his 37 years of devoted duty to the community. It was pointed out that while the department was being investigated, the loyalty of Chief Van Buren to the city, department and men under his

Results Give Matthews, Bell, Pomeroy Ballot Spot for Delegate Run

Hamilton Fish Jr., of Millbrook, who took an early lead over his opponent Alexander Aldrich of Chatham, won the Republican primary contest for Congressional nomination from the State's 28th Congressional District. Unofficial returns, practically complete, indicate Fish was leading his opponent by 3,525 votes in the two-county district. Fish will oppose Democrat Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick in the November election.

In the Republican contest for three delegates to the constitutional convention, Attorney S. James Matthews of Kingston, who entered the contest in opposition to the three regularly designated Republican candidates, led the field in both Ulster and Dutchess County.

Polled 11,030
Matthews polled 11,030 votes; Attorney H. Clark Bell of Woodstock 9,487; Senator R. Watson Pomeroy of Millbrook 10,088 and Attorney Louis P. Francello of Saugerties 6,123. In the unofficial tabulation from the two counties with relatively few districts missing.

Practically complete returns from Ulster County gave Matthews 5,990 and Dutchess County gave him 5,040. Bell received 5,907 in Ulster and 3,580 votes in Dutchess County. Senator Pomeroy of Dutchess County received 5,373 in Ulster and 4,715 in Dutchess. There were a few districts in Dutchess County also unreported.

One of the closest contests of the primary was that for Democratic State Committeeman. Attorney John J. Schick, a former assistant district attorney, Kingston, opposed former ninth Ward Supervisor James T. McCordie who now resides in Hurley.

With one district in Shawangunk unreported Schick led by six votes. The outcome of this contest appeared to be uncertain at press time, with the final outcome to be determined in the final count.

Schick Lost City
In the City of Kingston McCordie polled 472 votes and Schick 228, according to unofficial figures.

In the very hotly contested battle for the Republican nomination for 28th District candidate for Congress, both candidates conducted a very vigorous campaign in all of the five counties in the district.

In Columbia, home county of Alexander Aldrich, he polled an unofficial total of 3,065 against his opponent's 1,261. Fish car-

Release Codarre After Serving 23 Years in Jail

After serving about 23 years in prison for killing a 10-year-old Dutchess County girl in 1943, Edwin Codarre, who is now 36, was ordered released on Tuesday by the U. S. Court of Appeals.

Codarre stood trial at the age of 13 years in Dutchess County Court in 1943 for killing Elizabeth Vogt, daughter of an East Fishkill farmer. The accused entered a plea of innocent at Poughkeepsie, but during trial changed his plea to guilty after the state rested its case.

He was sentenced to a term of 30 years to life in prison.

A majority decision yesterday by Judges Paul R. Hays and Henry J. Friendly, found that "the only way to deal with his situation is to release him. He has already spent 23 years in prison."

Decision Criticized
The decision of Judges Hays and Friendly was criticized by Judge T. Emmet Clarke. He said

Fish, Weiss Held Spotlight In Contest for Congress

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Hamilton Fish Jr., heir to a famous New York State political name, and Theodore S. Weiss, a little-known New York City councilman, held the spotlight today as big winners in primary election contests for Congress.

Fish, son of a former congressman, defeated Alexander Aldrich, Gov. Rockefeller's cousin and former aide, in a Republican battle Tuesday for the congressional nomination in the 28th District.

Won on Peace Issue
Weiss, who campaigned on a "peace in Viet Nam" issue upset U.S. Rep. Leonard Farberstein, the Democratic incumbent from Manhattan's 19th District.

Farberstein was the only loser among six incumbent congressmen who faced opposition. All told, there were 16 intra-party contests for the state's 41 congressional seats.

The incumbents who beat down challenges are Democrats Adam Clayton Powell, Joseph P. Addabbo, Edna F. Kelly, Abraham J. Multer and Jacob H. Gilbert, all representing districts in New York City.

At the other end of the state, in Buffalo, former congressman John R. Pillion upset Kenneth J. McIlraith, who was backed by the Erie County Republican organization for the party's designation in the 39th District.

Seeks to Return
Pillion will seek to unseat U.S. Rep. Richard D. McCarthy, the Democrat who beat him in 1964. Following Pillion's victory, the county's GOP chairman, James R. Dawley, announced that he planned to resign.

State Sen. Jerome L. Wilson, whose senatorial district was lost through reapportionment, defeated Peter A. Berle in a

Announce Several To Committees In Legislature

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges, the Legislature's ranking Republican, selected Sen. Edward J. Speno today as chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Highway Safety.

Brydges recommended Speno and three other Republican senators for appointment to four more of the 15 legislative study committees to be controlled by the GOP. Four other chairmen were selected Tuesday.

To Study Safety
Speno, of Nassau, a veteran of 11 years in the Legislature and a frequent speaker on automobile safety, will work with an appropriation of $50,000.

Backed Silverman To Beat Tammany

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy emerged today as undisputed leader of New York's Democratic party, strengthened by a smashing victory over once-powerful Tammany Hall in a normally obscure primary judgeship race.

Kennedy's hand-picked candidate for judge of the Surrogate (Probate) Court — Samuel J. Silverman — defeated the regular Manhattan organization candidate, Arthur Klein, in an open test of Kennedy's political strength. Both Silverman and Klein now are New York Supreme Court justices.

Top Javits Man

The race was the highlight of New York's primary elections, which also saw a Goldwater Republican defeat a candidate endorsed by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, and an opponent of President Johnson's Viet Nam policy upset a veteran congressman.

On suburban Long Island, Steven Derounian, who lost his congressional seat when he backed Barry Goldwater in the Johnson landslide of 1964, won the Republican nomination over GOP moderate William J. Casey.

From Washington, Goldwater said in a statement that Derounian's victory "was just one more convincing proof of the mainstream of the Republican party is, as it always has been, common sense conservatism."

Casey was endorsed by Javits, but Javits did not campaign actively for him. Derounian will

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

There will be a number of library fairs again this summer, last year when the Kingston City Library had their sale I bought a fine 976 page book called: Orgel on Valuation under Eminent Domain, from which I quoted at the time. It has a great deal on "Fair Market Value of Property" bought for government use. It explains a "willing seller" and a "willing buyer" and a "forced sale." It tells about "value to the owner" and "absence of acceptable substitute location" and many other problems, in this interesting book published in 1936, and gives the cases and names. It is difficult to believe how each case involves so many problems. It seems the government never wants to play Robin Hood in reverse, that is take from the small owner and give to the rich, but of course, this book being some 30 years old, perhaps many have forgotten it ever existed, and that is perhaps why it was put on the library sale shelf.

I was brought an item from The Wall Street Journal, of Monday, June 13, 1966 page 14 at the top of this page is a framed item reading: "Judge Rules City Liable For Property Value Drop, Detroit—(AP)." It goes on to explain how a Federal Judge held that Detroit must pay property owners any losses they may have suffered when the real estate market declined as a result of the city announcing it was to condemn an area for slum clearance. It seems, the U. S. District Judge Fred W. Kaess made the ruling in a 1962 civil suit brought by two Detroit property owners which now appears on the top of this page in the Monday June 13, 1966 Wall Street Journal.

Being that cities across the nation are going through the planning and demolition of personal property, these items are interesting.

It further explained that the office of Detroit's corporation counsel, or city attorney, said the ruling would be appealing to a higher Federal court on "jurisdictional grounds." No doubt other papers are going to run more information on this ruling? It also explains that Mrs. Geraldine Bledsoe Ford, assistant corporation counsel, said the Michigan supreme court already has held such issues are to be decided by a city court jury. They fear that "Millions of dollars in claims could result from the ruling." It seems the court acted in a suit brought by owners of property that had been marked for condemnation. Judge Kaess said the city's announcement of its intention to acquire the property "contributed to and accelerated a decline in value." No doubt, as time goes on there will be million of words written on such problems effecting so many people.

It is also interesting to note that the center and uptown section during a hot afternoon seems to have a higher temperature than downtown, at the same time I wonder if it is because Rondout is nearer the Rondout Creek and Hudson, with always a little breeze. Even in storms the water does run down the hill, but never really stays like a lake in many flat sections in the center of town or elsewhere. I still think that to many, the year 1966, will be a year to remember with all the movement of people and places. One by one businesses are moving to the outskirts, like Andy's Furniture Co. from the Stock and Cordt's Building down on Broadway in Rondout to Bob Steele's large place in the Town of Ulster.

From time to time I meet folks who lived in Broadway east, either years ago, or recently being forced to move and we talk over old times. Perhaps someday, there will be a Broadway East Association of the old timers who lived here, to meet once a year or so, like they had an Ulster County Society, which I think met in New York City.

Describe Recent Communist Convention as Pitiful Sight

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist party, U.S.A., this month held its first convention since 1959. It was a pitiful sight in more ways than one.

This in turn raises questions about the so-called new left which is supposed to be developing in this country, although not connected with communism which is said to look out of date to the new radicals.

Congress, courts, FBI and changing times made a wreck of the American Communist party. It claims a membership of 10,000 to 12,000, way down from the 80,000 to 100,000 it claimed in depression days 30 years or so ago.

In a way the New York convention looked a little like an old folks' home. The 213 delegates and 42 alternates from 36 states were mostly up in years and had been in the party for years.

Many got bored and walked out the opening night when Gus Hall, the general secretary, hit them with a three-hour speech. Hall, 55, has been a party member most of his life.

The party wants to attract young people and there was some infighting with newcomers anxious to wrest control from the oldsters. The oldsters held fast.

It's not just the fractured condition of the party which makes it look pathetic. It's the vagueness. There were harsh words about the American role in Viet Nam. But, generally, the tone was as mild as a pussycat.

Hall was the prince of vagueness, talking about setting in motion a movement to present an independent candidate, although not a Communist, for president in 1968.

The party is trying to hook onto the fringes of agitation, like the civil rights movement or among youths. It's operating at a bad time.

The Communist world is split. The satellites are restless, Marxism in Europe is losing its rigidity, communism's chances in the prosperous countries are hopeless and in the backward countries it's not doing well.

The American Communist party is in a particularly unhappy spot and has been since President Franklin D. Roosevelt changed the direction of American thinking by establishing government concern for the general welfare.

All that has happened since then has been in the same direction, but more intensely, which makes the promises of communism look a little ridiculous.

There are vast areas of poverty and deprivation in America but the general population has a prosperity it never enjoyed before. And that population, since it now has so much to lose, is not going to listen to demands for radical change.

This is what the new radicalism in America faces: A largely self-satisfied society, richer than ever, despite the injustices inflicted on individual groups, like Negroes.

The question then is: To whom can the new or young radicals, so-called, appeal? If their cause has anything more than restless discontent, like ideology for the American future, it hasn't reached the masses of the people.

And it is questionable that many of the discontented young people are motivated by ideas or dreams of a more perfect society. With many the motivations are probably personal, the product of individual frustrations.

Any kind of radical third party movement of any real force — at a time when the government is preaching the Great Society theme and doing something about it — seems impossible now or far off.

Taylor Back In Hollywood To Make Film

By BOB TOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Nostalgia time: Robert Taylor is back making a movie at MGM. That should evoke a rush of memories for the movie buff. All those wondrous old films: "Camille," "Waterloo Bridge," "Broadway Melody," "Johnny Eager," "A Yank at Oxford," etc.

And what about these titles: "Wicked Woman," "Society Doctor," "Gorgeous Hussy," "Her Cardboard Lover," "Times Square Lady," etc.

All these films and many more were made by Taylor during the longest contract ever fulfilled by a Hollywood star. He signed with MGM in 1934 when he was Spangler Arlington Brough, just out of Pomona College. His exclusive contract ended in 1958, but he remained until 1961 on a nonexclusive basis.

Now he's back playing in a Western, "Return of The Gunfighter." How does the old lot look to him?

"Much the same — maybe a little more run-down," he commented bluntly.

Unlike aging studios, Taylor remains in fine condition. At 54, his face is a bit more seamed, but his figure remains a trim 175. The famous Taylor hairline, widow's peak and all, is the same as ever.

"I was skinny as a rail back in my early days here," he recalled. "I think I weighed 150 pounds when I made 'Camille.' I had to sweep Garbo into my arms and carry her, and I almost didn't make it. Those petticoats she was wearing must have weighed 50 pounds."

Taylor did his stint in television with his "Detectives" series, which lasted three years. Now he prefers to stick to features.

Dear Abby . . .

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you once before about this problem, but I turned chicken and tore up the letter. The problem has come up again, and this time I've made up my mind to mail it. My husband has been interested in nudism for some time, and has tried to get me to go to a nudist camp. I have nothing against camps like that, but I am just not the type who could strip down naked in front of so many people.

We have had a lot of arguments about this, and have even come close to getting a divorce over it. I don't see how normal people could go to a place like that without getting a few "evil" thoughts. Am I wrong to think this way, or am I evil minded? And do you think a man who really loved his wife could bear to see her walking naked in front of other men?

ANTI-NUDIST

DEAR ANTI: One's attitude about nudity is based on his early training, acquired inhibitions, and the customs and culture of the society in which he exists. Some people adopt unconventional beliefs that are not, necessarily, "evil minded." I believe, however, that everything has its place, including the fig leaf. . . .

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were married four years and didn't seem able to have children. My sister had four little girls. Last year when her husband was in the penitentiary she started running around and got pregnant. She told us if we paid all her expenses we could have the baby when it was born. We agreed, and she went to the hospital, under my name, and had an adorable baby boy. It didn't seem to bother her to give it up at first, altho I knew she always wanted a boy.

She lives near us, and comes over every day to help with the baby. He is a doll, and I can see while she's holding or feeding him how much she loves him. It's about to drive me crazy. I have the funniest feeling the baby knows where he belongs. I love my sister, and it kills me to see her hurt. I feel like I have taken away the only thing she has ever really wanted. I love the baby, too. What should I do?

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: If you and your husband legally adopted the child and were to move away and sever all ties with your sister, only then could it work out. But as long as you remain where your sister can see him every day you'll have no peace of mind. So you might as well give the baby back to his mother and adopt one thru an agency.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the bride who wanted her real father to give her away instead of her stepfather. She admitted that her real father had disappeared during the most important years of her life, and her stepfather had been more like a "real" father to her.

I had that decision to make a few years ago, and the circumstances were identical. My parents were divorced when I was 2 years old. (My father left my mother for another woman.) I figured that my real father had already "given me away" once, so when it came time for me to marry I chose my stepfather to give me away. I have never regretted it.

Rocky Predicts Medical Aid Will Be Major Issue

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP)

Gov. Rockefeller predicts the state's new, controversial medical aid program will be a major issue in the November general elections.

Rockefeller defended the plan to pay medical bills for those deemed needy at the annual executive conference Tuesday of the New York State Broadcasters Association.

At the same time, he told his audience of 120 persons that he, the Legislature and the news media would have to assume responsibility for the confusion that swirled around the program.

In reviewing the achievements of his administration, Rockefeller said he was happy particularly with expanded educational and highway programs and measures to curb water pollution and preserve natural resources.

The governor said he did not force the need for a year-long legislative session. He suggested that a five-day work week would solve the problem of lengthy sessions.

The Legislature now is in its longest session in modern times, with the Senate and Assembly convening for one or two days a week.

Commenting on his possible Democratic opponent in the fall, Rockefeller said:

"Frank O'Connor thinks he's going to get the nomination. He has collected the most delegates, but Frank Roosevelt has collected visibility."

AFRICA AND ASIA

Twenty-one years after the end of World War I, Europe was already engulfed in an even bigger war.

Today, 21 years after V-E Day, a third conflagration beginning in Europe is the remotest of worries facing the world. All are agreed on this—excepting it seems, the Russians, who greatly fear a nuclear-armed Germany.

They believe, or claim to believe, that this is the ulterior purpose of the treaty proposed by the United States to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

The Soviets were lectured about their "unhealthy and myopic obsession" with European affairs the other day by Lord Chalfont, Britain's representative at the Geneva disarmament talks. (Yes, they're still going on.)

The Cold War is outdated and irrelevant, said Lord Chalfont. It has been replaced by great conflicts of race and economic survival.

"In the last quarter of this century the great threats to the peace and prosperity of the world will lie outside Europe. They will be found in the turbulent and seething world of Africa and Asia."

These threats will not be met, he said, "if we cannot lift our eyes from the River Elbe long enough to recognize the simple facts of life about nuclear proliferation."

He suggested that the least the delegates could do would be to step up the "rather leisurely tempo" of their negotiations by holding three meetings a week instead of two.

There is smoke from smoldering fires all over the world. Even the Russians would smell it if they would stop sniffing the ashes of the one that burned out in Europe long ago.

FOR A SAFE FOURTH

With the long weekend Fourth of July will come the likelihood of crowded highways and the probability of many fatalities and serious accidents.

Excessive speed, failure to grant the right of way, driving on the wrong side of the road and tailgating are among the top driving errors that result in highway accidents. Faulty steering mechanisms and brakes have been found as the leading causes of improperly functioning cars involved in accidents. We have mentioned these causes before and also have stressed the observance of safeguards and precautions.

At the risk of repeating tiresome warnings, we once again suggest that you give your car a thorough safety check and we remind you to drive carefully and courteously.

Highway deaths are mounting in every section of the country. In Ulster County, alone this year, there have been 19 highway fatalities.

IS SUGAR THE KEY?

It will be interesting to see what comes of a leading British nutritionist's insistence that not animal fat, but sugar, is the underlying cause of much heart disease. Though some prominent American experts in the field dispute this theory advanced by Dr. John Yudkin of Queen Elizabeth College it appears that they may be given some trouble by a recent study made on the island of St. Helena.

Heretofore, this island has been famed chiefly as the place where Napoleon was imprisoned. It is to gain new fame because of the study Dr. Yudkin cites in support of his theory.

Researchers have found, that although the natives of St. Helena get plenty of exercise on their hilly island and eat only about two-third as much animal fats as Britons consume, the incidence of heart trouble is about the same. This scarcely jibes with the tentative conclusion, widespread among heart experts, that lack of exercise and high consumption of animal fat are among the main causative factors in some kinds of heart disease.

The study championed by Dr. Yudkin as support of his sugar theory is not conclusive evidence that he is right. It is only one of many studies made in various parts of the world, studies as to whose significance the experts do not always

THE WHITES DIDN'T RUN FROM NEGROES

The trouble with civil rights legislation is that it can provide no way of catching up with white people who vote with their feet. And inevitably, as the so-called Negro ghettos of Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago, and Detroit expand, the ironic remark is spread that "if half the Caucasians would remain in town, the problem of integration would solve itself."

This puts all the blame on the Caucasians, who are inferentially accused of running away from Negroes. But, as a matter of history, the big exodus of white people from the northern cities began long before there was any problem of integration. The move to the suburbs is, quite simply, a reflex of the technological revolution which is making the big central city obsolescent. Popular economists such as Stuart Chase were already talking about this obsolescence in the Nineteen Thirties when they observed that, with the development of interconnected electrical grids, it would become actually more economic to situate new factories in sylvan regions which provided plenty of room for parking space. Henry Ford had already solved the problem of transportation for workers, who could, if they so desired, live ten or twenty miles from a workbench. Only a small amount of affluence is necessary to permit technologically competent individuals to live in green suburbs, in happy proximity to the inevitable shopping center and drive-in moving picture theater.

The growth of suburbia is intimately bound up with the electronics revolution, which takes entertainment out of central city theaters and puts it into even the most remote country homes via radio and TV. You don't have to go to Lincoln Center in New York City for dancing or music, nor do you have to journey to the Bronx to see Mickey Mantle perform. It's all there in the living room, spread out on the televised platter.

What has happened is something sociological, and something economic, that has only an accidental connection with racial matters. People began deserting the central city a full generation ago simply to beat the heat, or to get away from the sound of the "El," or elevated railway, or to keep crowds of any description from getting in their hair.

Inevitably, as people began moving to the suburbs, vacuums appeared in the areas surrounding the central city. Gracious nineteenth century homes became mortuary parlors or offices for automobile salesmen. And the old brownstones and red brick buildings which were even closer than the Victorian mansions to the central city were open to any and all comers at whatever rent they could command. It so happened that the creation of the big city vacuums coincided with the agricultural revolution in the South, which forced Negro field hands off the land. For ex-feld hand there was no place to go at prevailing real estate prices except to the vacated central city, where there might be jobs in the types of businesses that were still stuck in town.

Now to handle the problem of racial congestion in the decaying areas of the big city is something that transcends ordinary politics. People can't be "legislated" into staying in town, and the whites, wherever they can afford it, are simply not going to come back to the central city to live. It is not even a matter of schools; the best education in the world could be offered in Harlem without tempting any takers from people now living in New York's Westchester County or in Connecticut's Fairfield.

The Negro, at this moment in time, is the victim of his economic situation; he lacks the income that has permitted all the old racial blocs of the Nineteenth Century—the Irish, the Jews, the Italians—to take up the chase to the suburbs. When the Negro has earning power, he will certainly find real estate agents to sell him suburban houses. Money is money, as other previously oppressed groups have delightedly discovered.

The problem is to bring the Negro abreast of the economic boom, to enable him to earn. When the educational aspect of that problem is solved, the "ghetto" (which is technically not really a ghetto, since its inhabitants are not subject to compulsory curfew laws) will disappear. This is why, almost alone among "anti-poverty" political measures, Operation Headstart promises to do something about making ghettos as obsolescent as the central city itself.

10 Minutes of Exposure Provides Needed Vitamin D

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What are the symptoms of vitamin D poisoning? Could cod liver oil cause hardening of the arteries?

A—Excessive amounts of vitamin D cause a loss of appetite, apathy, nausea, weakness, headache, and a great thirst. The preferred treatment is sodium or calcium phosphate. Autopsy on some of those who have died of this disease showed severe hardening of the arteries and it is reasonable to believe that a cause and effect relationship existed in these cases. The daily requirement of this vitamin is 400 units but you can get this with 10 minutes of exposure of a small area of your skin to direct sunlight daily.

Q—Is vitamin A good for the eyes? What vitamins benefit arthritis?

A—Vitamin A is necessary for good vision, especially at night. There is no vitamin or any other dietary component that will specifically help your arthritis.

Q—I read recently that vitamin B-6 does wonders for various ailments. Is this so? Has the need for calcium pantothenate in human nutrition been firmly established?

A—Vitamin B-6 (pyridoxine) is found in meat and whole grain cereals. It is important for the health of your teeth, gums, blood vessels, red blood cells and nervous system. It works wonders for anyone who, through a faulty diet, has developed a deficiency of this vitamin.

The need for pantothenic acid or its calcium salt (also a part of the vitamin B complex) in making the adrenal hormones, in producing antibodies and in the health of the nervous system has been firmly established.

Q—What is nicotinic acid good for? Is it a vitamin? Is it safe to take it for a long time?

A—Nicotinic acid is a part of the vitamin B complex. It is needed in the transformation of food into energy and in the prevention of pellagra. It has also been used in large doses to reduce the blood cholesterol level. It can be taken safely for an indefinite period.

Q—What was the Keeley cure for alcoholics? Was it effective?

A—The alcoholic voluntarily entered one of the Keeley Institutes (founded in 1879) where he was free to come and go at will. The stay was usually two or four weeks. Although moderate cigar and pipe smoking were allowed, cigarettes were forbidden. Coffee drinking was limited. Various drugs were used; exercise was encouraged and counseling was given.

Although many alcoholics underwent a remarkable rehabilitation at the institutes, there were relapses. The institutes did, however, wage a successful battle to promote the idea, now widely accepted, that alcoholism is a disease. The last of these institutes closed its doors in June of this year.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

agree. The St. Helena findings can be expected, however, to turn the focus of research slightly away from the idea that animal fat and a sedentary existence are the villains in the piece. It may be that sugar, to some extent, shares that dubious honor.

"You Suppose an Aspirin Will Make It Go Away?"

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Unconventional "black" war techniques for use in Viet Nam are now being quietly discussed among policymakers.

The proposals are circulated with backing from some high U. S. officials in Saigon.

"Black" techniques in this case would be in issuance of "orders" and the publication of newspapers and documents by U. S. or friendly agents pretending to be Viet Cong, North Vietnamese or Red Chinese. False radio broadcasts might be included. Also involved would be a handful of other offbeat ideas.

Some examples:

1—A plan to put contaminated ammunition into Viet Cong hands. It could be issued openly (though not labeled as faulty) to men known for their secret VC connections. It could be stored where the VC could pilfer it.

As one proposer puts it: "The effect of contaminated ammunition in Chinese or other bloc weapons held by Viet Cong can readily, and happily, be imagined."

2—A plan for publishing two "black" newspapers for distribution to the VC, each purporting to be published by VC headquarters. Each would espouse a different side in the Sino-Soviet split.

Much of the content would come directly from Radio Moscow, Radio Hanoi and Radio Peking.

These papers could also include secret instructions from Hanoi and other high Communist quarters. Each would espouse a headquarters to local VC political cadre. The orders would be genuine orders, captured in battle. The orders chosen, of course, would be those the Communists would want to keep secret from the people.

The newspapers might include, for example, secret orders on terrorism, plans for raising taxes or toughening political controls. They might include cynical instructions from Hanoi to put local guerrilla forces in the front ranks where they'd suffer the highest casualties and save "elite" North Vietnamese troops.

That is, they'd be orders from Hanoi which showed the real face of the Communist and disclosed to the Vietnamese villagers that Hanoi pulls the strings.

The papers would be published "with a straight face" as though indeed put out by the Viet Cong themselves.

3—A scheme for issuing "black orders" to the Viet Cong units. These orders would deliberately be conflicting—setting groups of VC at cross-purposes and engendering confusion.

False intelligence reports could be sent "from higher headquarters." False orders could be issued, calling for shipping rice along certain routes at certain times when government troops would be waiting in ambush.

These false orders could either be paper orders delivered by agents or radio orders beamed into the VC radio receivers using Hanoi-VC frequencies and codes.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Never knock a poor relation. Someday he may lend money to you. Take Kuwait. Many people have never heard of it. Some we have wish they hadn't. It consists of 80 miles of hot sand on the edge of the Persian Gulf. In a geographical sense, it is nothing caught between Iraq, Iran and Saudi Arabia. Kuwait calls itself a nation.

The capital of Kuwait is Kuwait, which figures. It has a population of 350,000 Arabs. There is another town, called Al-Ahmedi. There are 15,000 Arabs there. Another 100,000 live nomadically on the desert, having their skin covered by flying sand. Kuwait makes Devil's Island look like Greenwich Village.

Those who lived on the edge of the gulf tried fishing and pearl-diving. Nothing. The country was so poor that the ruling sheik was down to his original wife. Still, for some obscure reason, bigger nations fought to control little Kuwait.

First it was Turkey. Then the Germans announced that they were going to build the terminal of their Berlin-Bagdad railway in Kuwait. The country was just the right size for a railway terminal. But Queen Victoria, in 1899, announced that Britain would protect little Kuwait and the Germans dropped the notion.

Saudi Arabia, the giant to the south, tried to straighten out the Kuwaitian border by swallowing the tiny sheikdom. In 1923, Iraq, to the north, tried to grab a handful of desert, but the ruling sheik of Kuwait held on to his hot sand.

The only kind thing that ever happened to Kuwait occurred in 1934. The Gulf Oil Corporation and British Petroleum made Kuwait an offer to drill for oil. The little sheiks danced in their sheets because, even if nothing came of it, the foreigners were bound to spend a few bucks here and there.

The two groups combined and became the Kuwait Oil Company, with rights to drill all over the desert—everywhere except in the neutral buffer zone to the south. The drills pumped dry sand. Once in awhile, they found water, and this pleased the natives almost as much as oil. The whole scheme began to look like a charity tap until 1938. Then an oil rig suddenly spouted black gold.

It was quickly capped, but both Great Britain and the U. S. advised the amalgamated company to stop the work because a war was due. In 1946, when the war was over, the drillers went back to work in southern Kuwait and the results were spectacular. Everywhere they drilled, oil popped.

In 1953, Getty Oil Company and Independent Oil exercised an option in the sandy neutral zone and hit oil everywhere. Two years later, more oil was discovered in the northern section of Kuwait. In a short span, the little sheikdom was rich. Filthy rich.

This so unnerved Iraq that it attacked the little sandpile again, claiming that Kuwait was an "integral" part of its nation. The minuscule sandbar appealed to the British for help and got it. The Iraqis backed off.

The money continued to roll in. The old adobe capital has been

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Dissension among civil-rights leaders has been revealed. This takes on significance because within the groups there has been for some time different schools of thought—those who believe progress for Negroes in America will be made by more and more demonstrations, and those who feel that public opinion will become unfriendly if there is incitement to violence and recurring riots in American cities.

The general impression conveyed heretofore has been that only the south is at fault and that ill-treatment of the Negro is sectional. Disturbances in northern cities, however, have increased in intensity. It is evident that many Negroes in the north are as poorly informed about the inevitable currents of public opinion as are the Klansmen in the south. Difficulties are being created that are hurting the efforts of thoughtful and sensible Negroes who have been striving hard to overcome by proper methods the handicaps suffered in the past.

Damaging the Cause

What is damaging the Negro cause is the frequency of such news as the following UPI dispatch reported from Cleveland, Ohio, a few days ago:

"Police today continued a heavy patrol of nearly 30 blocks of Cleveland's racially tense east side Negro area following a night of vandalism by roving mobs."

"Bands of Negro youths, 10 to 40 strong, continued to roam the area throughout the night, throwing rocks and breaking store windows. At least 8 persons were treated at hospitals for cuts and bruises received in rock-throwing incidents."

"Police were pelted with bottles by Negroes who lay in wait in side streets. In one incident about 10 special task force policemen were suddenly confronted by a crowd of Negroes across an intersection."

"Almost simultaneously, 50 to 60 bottles were hurled across the street at the officers. No arrests were reported as the attacking crowds threw bottles and bricks and fled back into the side streets with police in pursuit."

Not Confined

Riots of this kind are not confined to any one part of the country. They have happened not only in Los Angeles, but in New York and Chicago and other parts of the country. Unquestionably reports of violence and disturbances create an impression on citizens generally. Many are beginning to wonder whether the Negro leaders may not have overreached themselves by preaching, in effect, that almost any kind of action is justified to redress wrongs of the past.

More and more the feeling is growing that a mob spirit is arising in this country and that physical violence may erupt at almost any place where there are racial differences of any kind. Instead of waiting for laws to be enforced or action to be taken by the courts, the tendency now is to engage in mob demonstrations which frighten the peaceful citizenry in many a community.

It is evident here that members of Congress are watching carefully to see what's happening back home. The undercurrent of dissatisfaction and discontent are rising. Many people will not disclose to other persons their gripes or their grievances but will make their protests known at the polls. They will watch, for instance, to see how Congress handles the "fair housing" legislation. It seems probable that there will be movements to defeat representatives and senators who vote to take away from the private citizen the right to dispose of his property as he pleases.

The question is not concerned merely with the sale or rental of property but also with the effect upon each neighborhood if anybody, irrespective of whether he is a law-abiding citizen, can force his way into a community. The effect of real-estate values is not readily calculated, but many people throughout the country who own property are beginning to worry about it.

If all the homeowners in the United States expressed their feelings in this matter, it would add up to a very sizable vote of protest. The fact that an election is to be held for members of Congress this November means that the "fair housing" legislation may be put off until a later date. But it is already beginning to be talked about as perhaps one of the biggest influences on the outcome of the congressional election.

Quick Quiz

Q—What incident set the stage for the Spanish-American War?

A—In 1898, in Havana Harbor, a blast destroyed the battleship Maine, which burst into flames and sank in the harbor. Of some 350 men aboard, 260 died. The exact cause of the explosion was never known.

Q—Are there any pure races of man today?

A—Anthropologists believe not.

Q—What U. S. citizen was fined in 1872 for trying to vote in a presidential election?

A—Susan B. Anthony. She voted in order to test her status as a citizen.

I'm sorry I didn't have something to take care of that man. I'll never make that mistake again.

But I urge you never to dissent merely because someone asks you to, or because someone else does. Know why you protest, know what it is you dissent from, and always try, when you do disagree, to offer a choice to the course you disapprove.

Study Club Aids Hasbrouck House Library; Fair Is Scheduled July 9

NEW PALTZ — The New Palitz Study Club has voted to donate $100 to the Elting Memorial Library to be used in support of the library's local history department. The gift is greatly appreciated by the library board. It has been duplicated every year as long as the board can remember.

The study club's gift is particularly significant because it was this organization that started a reading room in 1907 which later became the New Palitz Free Library.

The Elting Memorial Library is voluntary supported by the Garden Club, the Jaycees, the Jaycees, the town board, the village board, the Town Board of Gardiner, the Huguenot Nursery, the Boy Scouts, the Explorers, and virtually every business in town.

These generous organizations and individuals repeatedly give their time, materials, or money to help the library maintain services of the best possible quality.

July 9, at the 14th library fair, many of these organizations and individuals will again make a major contribution and create a day of fun and excitement for everyone.

At 10 a. m. the fair will open with a full schedule of awards, and an auction.

4 Drivers Fined In Saugerties Special Session

Four motorists appeared Tuesday night before Police Justice David Goble, Saugerties Village, and were fined for motor vehicle violations.

Officer George Derbyshire reported John Snowlen, 26, of Rosendale, was fined $30 and his license was suspended for 60 days. He was charged with driving while impaired.

Frank Bester, 17, Blue Mountain, was fined $25 on a speeding violation. He was cited by Officer John Kerbert.

George Wyant, 19, Staatsburg, was fined $10 and payment of the fine was suspended. He was summoned by Officer Derbyshire on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with an inadequate muffler. George Muller, 62, Malden, cited by Officer Donald Playford on charges of driving an unregistered motor vehicle and operating a car without tail-lights. He was fined $15 on the registration violation and a $10 fine on the second charge was suspended.

200 Attend Trinity Lutheran Church Fete

More than 200 attended the annual Sunday school picnic of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church Sunday 3 to 8 p. m. at Forsyth Park.

Games and foot races for the children were under the direction of Louis H. Schafer, retired YMCA secretary and Mrs. Helen Slover. Ralph Grothkoop, superintendent, and Fred Schussler were in charge of arrangements. The Rev. John H. Frenssen, pastor, participated also.

Game winners were Robert Foster, Nina Schwenk, James Foster, Kathy Foster, and Robert Duncan.

Sunday school will be in recess during July and August.

In 1827, Sir William Parry made an attempt to reach the North Pole by way of Spitsbergen.

Hasbrouck House Open to Visitors

Locust Lawn, well known Federal mansion, built in 1814 by Col. Josiah Hasbrouck while a member of Congress, is now open to the public for the summer. The house is open daily from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. except Monday's. It is located just south of New Palitz Village on Route 32.

A small donation will permit anyone to visit the house. This year Mrs. Travers and Miss Jan Abrahamson, will be on hand to show visitors through the 12 room mansion.

The home is especially noteworthy because of its resemblance to great Virginia houses and its original furnishings that have always been in the family. The house has not been changed, or altered. One sees it as it was over 150 years ago. In the past it was a favorite visiting place for the people going back and forth to New Palitz and Newburgh. Large parties were held there and all of the neighbors were entertained.

During the past year the out buildings have been preserved. The carriage house with its buildings are on view.

The house has been gone over by the architects and drawn in detail. The plans are now housed in the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C.

Nearby the house is the bird sanctuary, a part of the holdings of the local Historical Society.

Install New Heads Of RV Rescue Squad

New officers of the Rondout Valley First Aid and Rescue Squad were installed during the regular monthly meeting Monday at Squad headquarters.

They include Lloyd Spearman, president; Ted Musal, vice president and Ray Wright, treasurer. Outgoing president was William Conway, who presided over the first half of the meeting.

Plans are currently underway for a bake and rummage sale scheduled for Saturday, July 9.

election. Connors is seeking to replace veteran Democratic congressman Leo O'Brien, who will retire this year.

Joseph L. Hutner beat Leslie A. Robert for Democratic designation in the 26th District in Westchester county. He will meet Republican incumbent Ogden R. Reid.

Other New York City contests, all Democratic, saw Gilbert T. Redleaf beat John A. Santorelli in the Sixth District and Frank J. Brasco emerge the winner over Stanley J. Kaufman and Ray H. Williams in the 11th District.

In the only Liberal Party contest, Frank M. Corso led John A. Brush in the 2nd Congressional District on Long Island. Corso is the Democratic nominee.

Had Easy Win

Powell, a congressman often involved in controversy, easily defeated Ramon A. Martinez.

Gilbert, one of the last congressmen still supported by Bronx County Democratic leader Charles F. Buckley, beat five challengers.

Mrs. Kelly just edged Eugene Victor, 32,410 to 31,234, in unofficial returns.

The Weiss - Farbstein fray was the most closely contested. Unofficial returns showed the young city councilman ahead, 17,385-17,324.

A tight Fish-Aldrich contest had been forecast because of the large area the district covers — Ulster, Dutchess, Greene, Columbia and Schoharie counties — and the similarities between the two men.

Won by 3,525

Fish, however, defeated Aldrich by an unofficial 3,525 votes — 16,749-13,224. His margin came in his home county of Dutchess, most populous of the five counties.

In addition to his father, who served 25 years in Congress, Fish can count among his ancestors a great-grandfather who was governor of New York State, a U.S. senator and secretary of state to President Ulysses S. Grant. Fish's father also was a congressman.

Aldrich, 38, and Fish, 29, were on the same rowing crew at Harvard and belonged to the same social house.

Fish's opponent will be Democratic incumbent Joseph Y. Resnick of Ellenville, the son of immigrant parents and a self-made millionaire who won the seat in the heavily Republican territory in 1964.

Elephant Kills 3-Year-Old Child

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Nine-year-old Michael Sharpe heard a mother scream.

A 3-year-old girl with her bag of popcorn had slipped under the gate near the elephant cage at the Henry Vilas Park Zoo Tuesday.

Winkie, a 3½ ton import from India, snaked her trunk out through the bars and curled it around the child.

Pulled Child In

"I didn't know what to do," Michael said. "Winkie just grabbed her and started pulling her in. She was trumpeting and the girl's mother was screaming. I don't know what was wrong with Winkie. I never saw her that way."

The girl was Ruth Ellen Freedman, the daughter of Prof. Ralph Freedman of Princeton University.

Before anyone could reach her, the elephant smashed the child against the bars of the cage, dropped her, picked her up again, drew her inside the cage and let her fall unconscious to the concrete floor.

After Mrs. Freedman screamed, she and her husband dashed to a gate and entered in an attempt to rescue the child but by then the elephant had pulled her through the bars.

Ruth Ellen was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Dane County Coroner Clyde Chamberlain said the fatal injury probably was inflicted by the elephant's feet after the child was inside the cage.

"She was more or less trampled," he said.

Ruth Ellen had come to Madison a few days ago with her parents.

Freedman, a prominent scholar and writer, was spending the summer at the University of Wisconsin as a visiting lecturer.

The university is not far from the city zoo where Winkie, the only elephant, has been the star attraction for children since her arrival almost 20 years ago.

No Previous Problems

Zoo Director Alvie Nelson considered the 23-year-old animal docile. "We've had no problems with her," he said.

The barrier was supposed to keep zoo visitors at a safe distance from the cages. "It's a perfectly safe enclosure," said Nelson, "except if people want to get in, you can't keep them out."

The first person to reach the child was Melvin Bollig, the caretaker. He was in the nearby house.

"I hear screaming and I

State Police Plan Stiff Road Patrol Over 4th Weekend

Governor Rockefeller today directed the New York State Police to mount an all-out offensive against traffic law violators in an effort to reduce deaths and injuries on the highways over the Fourth of July weekend.

The offensive, designated as "Operation Prevent," will go into effect Friday and continue through midnight July 4th.

Black and white patrol cars will be used exclusively as a visual deterrent for potential violators, careless drivers and pedestrians, and will be operated with light on. A fleet of more than 550 cars will be on the highways constantly during the 78-hour period.

Every trooper not on vacation or sick leave will be on duty, with work schedules adjusted accordingly.

In announcing the project, Governor Rockefeller urged every law enforcement agency with traffic control responsibilities in the State to join in the rushed to the cage. I saw the child lying on the concrete. The elephant walked away the moment I walked in the cage. She acted as if she knew she had done something wrong."

The coroner said he didn't know what would become of the animal.

Move to Approve Tough Auto Safety Federal Measure

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee is moving toward adoption of tough auto safety legislation while making clear it does not intend to be pushed into hasty action.

Two key votes Tuesday showed strong support within the committee for legislation similar to that passed by the Senate last week. But the committee defeated a move to speed up its deliberations as it voted down a proposal to accept the entire Senate bill.

Delay Final Action

Although the committee planned to meet again today, final action will be delayed until after Congress returns from a July 4th recess in two weeks.

"It's better to have a good bill than to rush one through," said the committee chairman, Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va.

Staggers admitted that White House officials had contacted his office to indicate their interest in swift action.

In one important vote, the committee rejected by a substantial majority a proposal offered by Rep. Glenn C. Cunningham, R-Neb., and supported by the auto industry to take away from the secretary of commerce the major role in setting new car safety standards.

Cunningham's proposal would have shifted much of the power to the Vehicle Equipment Safety Commission, a 44-state compact which has been denounced by some safety proponents as dominated by the auto industry.

Then the committee voted to accept a Senate provision providing for consultation between the secretary and the safety commission of new car standards "as he deems appropriate." But it took out a provision which said the consultation would have to include an opportunity for the commission to study and comment on proposed standards.

Pending amendments before the committee would write into the House version the Senate provision to require promulgation of interim standards by next Jan. 31 so they can be incorporated into 1968 models. At present, the House bill has no specific time requirement but merely says safety standards shall be issued.

The committee ended a jurisdictional obstacle by relinquishing control over highway safety provisions to the Public Works Committee, which already has agreed on a highway bill. This will permit the House to keep its two bills parallel with the two measures passed last week by the Senate.

Receives Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rockland County community of Slootsburg has received a $157,500 federal grant to help plan modifications of its water supply system.

The grant was awarded Tuesday by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Judge D. S. Saund, former Congressman from California, was born in India.

Blames Medical Profession For Lag in Proper Treatment

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A doctor who became a drug addict charges the medical profession "doesn't know how to treat me, and doesn't really want to know."

"The profession that has for generations battled to keep the government from intervening between the doctor and his patient is content to let a federal tax agency tell it what to prescribe for me," he writes anonymously in the July 1 issue of Medical World News.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue is responsible for administering and enforcing federal narcotics laws.

Successful Pediatrician

Eight years ago, at age 35, he writes, he was a successful pediatrician in a wealthy New Jersey suburb, with a wife and five children.

Then he began taking a cocaine-and-aspirin combination to ease a gnawing tension that built up during the afternoons, and soon progressed to hypodermics of morphine.

Knowing he was heading for trouble, he consulted a psychiatrist who advised hospitalization. Eight months in a private mental hospital used up his savings, "and I made wonderful progress in all respect but one. I didn't find out why I took drugs."

His drug consumption increased, and he next went to "the mecca of all American addicts, the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in Lexington, Ky. But any kind of therapy there is bound to founder on the twin rocks of coercion and incarceration."

He failed to make progress with three admissions to Lexington, and later was arrested on a charge of fraudulent use of narcotics. His medical license was suspended.

For a while he made a living as a writer, but he lost his job, his wife told him to stay away until he had overcome his problem, and six months ago he was living and working at a church-run mission, the physician writes.

Is Making Progress

Now he feels he is making progress by participating in a research program studying the effectiveness of a drug, methadone, in helping addicts overcome their dependence on drugs; he has "a good job and more confidence than I've had in 10 years" and life "is now too precious to miss a minute of."

"But why did eight years of my career have to be wasted? With the doctor shortage, which is almost a national emergency, why is so little known about a disease that is almost an occupational hazard with doctors?"

"Statistics and estimates vary, but unless the next five years are radically different from the last, several thousand practicing physicians, by becoming addicts, will be lost to society, their families and to themselves during that time. For most of them it will be a permanent loss."

Medicine, he says, has performed miracles in controlling diseases "always because a basic pattern was followed. First, medicine learned how to treat, control or prevent the disease. Then, and only then, were laws passed to take advantage of this knowledge."

"Only when the doctor, working with the patient and without interference, has learned how to lick the disease can the experts tell the lawmakers what to do."

His drug consumption increased, and he next went to "the mecca of all American addicts, the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in Lexington, Ky. But any kind of therapy there is bound to founder on the twin rocks of coercion and incarceration."

He failed to make progress with three admissions to Lexington, and later was arrested on a charge of fraudulent use of narcotics. His medical license was suspended.

For a while he made a living as a writer, but he lost his job, his wife told him to stay away

That is the effort, right now, public money and private energy that needs the support of both gy."

AT HOME: CUT MEAL-TIME BUT NOT MEAL APPEAL: SERVE GRANDMA BROWN'S BAKED BEANS OFTEN! Just open a can, spoon beans into a casserole or baking pan. Add your own special touch if you wish: onion, catsup, bacon, whatever, then sprinkle on brown sugar. Just before the meal, pop in medium oven and heat till golden brown. Although Grandma Brown's Baked Beans are fast, and easy to fix, they have that marvelous, old-fashioned, slow-baked flavor. Serve when you cook outdoors at home and on picnics, camping and at the beach. Hot or cold, these beans taste delicious!

GET OUT OF YOUR KITCHEN!
Dine Out... At Home and at Holiday Inn® (and save money!)

GET AWAY FROM YOUR KITCHEN! HAVE A "FIRST LADY" HOLIDAY INN DINNER SOON! The First Lady of Baked Beans wants you, the First Lady at your house, to enjoy the marvelous food, service and atmosphere at a Holiday Inn restaurant near you. When you do, Grandma Brown will pay part of your food check! TO BE A FIRST LADY GUEST, start saving your Grandma Brown's Baked Beans labels. For every four labels you send with your name and address to "First Lady," Grandma Brown, Mexico, New York, Grandma Brown will send you a First Lady Guest Certificate good for one dollar ($1.00) on your Holiday Inn Food Check of $5.00 or more. That's a 25¢ value for each label. Only one certificate per $5.00 dinner check at participating Inns.

CHANNEL CHATTER

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — At the beginning of a period when a lot of people go on vacations, CBS Tuesday night presented an amusing hour about a fascinating, off-beat subject — the places they will stay.

"Essay on Hotels" started with a brief history of lodging places. The first real hotel in America was in Washington in 1793. By the 1880s the "luxury palaces" like Boston's Copley Plaza, New York's Plaza and Denver's Brown Palace were going up.

Then there was the era of the great resort hotels, and few of them remain today. In fact, on the site of the famed Grand Union of Saratoga there stands now a supermarket with the same name. Going, if not gone, too, are the smaller hotels and inns that featured front porches with an ocean view — and rocking chairs.

Hotels Increasing
But now, says the producer, writer, Andrew A. Rooney, the big downtown hotels are in trouble and many are coming down to make room for office space. And motels, by that or any other name, are increasing along with the increase of automobile and plane traffic. They are popping up along all the main roads and at the airports and are even invading the cities, called "high rise motels."

Rooney bowed to San Francisco as "maybe the best hotel town in the world," and skipped over the neon-lighted spots of Cape Canaveral and Las Vegas. We were also given a glimpse of life in a $1 a night Bowery

Hi-Health Names New Vice President

Dey Demarest has been named vice president of Prospect Dairy, Inc., Stamford, it was announced by Hubert A. Harwood, president.

Demarest has been general manager of the Hi-Health operations in Catskill (formerly Frank's Dairies) and Kingston (formerly Jones Dairy). He will continue to manage all Hi-Health operations in the Hudson Valley.

Chichester Fire

Phoenicia fire fighters were summoned Monday morning to battle a fire in a sawdust hopper at the Chichester factory. Shandaken and Onteora were called to stand by. Phoenicia responded to the alarm at 10:30 a. m. and returned to service at 11:16 a. m.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here's a hint for anyone who has a checking account: When a new bank statement comes in, I take a different colored pencil to check off the statement and that month's checks from my checkbook.

I use colored drawing pencils, and if I use blue this month, the next statement will be checked in orange, red, or green. I can spot, at a glance, where I left off...

At one time, I used a ball point pen to check them off, but always had to check twice as hard to find the place where I ended.

Also, for the checks that are still "out," I put an "O" in the marking-off column. I can then check them off in the next statement to show they have come in.

Try it and see. It sure is a wonderful way to balance your checkbook.

Contrasting Colors

Dear Heloise:

Break up a slice of crisply cooked bacon into very small crumbs, and beat it into one stick of margarine.

After beating it, always keep the "bacon butter" cool. The bacon gives the margarine a delicious flavor.

Anna Hudders

Oh, Anna, you are making me hungry for a slice of toast with some of that bacon butter—or on a hot biscuit—and I'll bet it would be out of this world on a piece of cornbread! And a baked potato? Wow!

Heloise

Letter of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

Whenever I need a measuring cup in a hurry, they are always at the bottom of the dishwasher.

I have only one set of measuring cups, but having had three babies, in as many years, I always have baby bottles in the cupboard. In a pinch, the bottles measure liquid as easily and accurately as anything else.

I guess when the babies grow up, I'll have to buy more measuring cups!

Pat Russick

Dear Heloise:

I put my loose face powder in a pretty, plastic salt shaker.

This makes it so easy to get the powder on the puff instead of everywhere else!

Eva D. Hesser

Dear Heloise:

I use pipe cleaners to clean the little wheel on my electric can opener, and to get into the tight places where grease and dirt collect.

Edwina Brown

Dear Gals:

Have you even been caught without another drop of white shoe polish—and wanted to wear your white leather shoes?

As an emergency treatment, dampen a piece of cotton with plain ole rubbing alcohol, wring it out real good, and rub it all over those white shoes!

It will remove the soiled spots and the build-up of polish already on the shoes will spread over the marks.

Also, if your shoes look as if they have too much of a build-up of polish, you can use a piece of cotton and a dash of rubbing alcohol to remove this excess polish before you polish them again.

How about that?

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Having old double-type laundry tubs, I connect both plugs together with a chain or beaded link (bought in the dime store).

I make the chain long enough to reach over the dividing partition of the tubs.

This way I never have to reach into the hot water with my hand to find the plug—I just pull the chain...

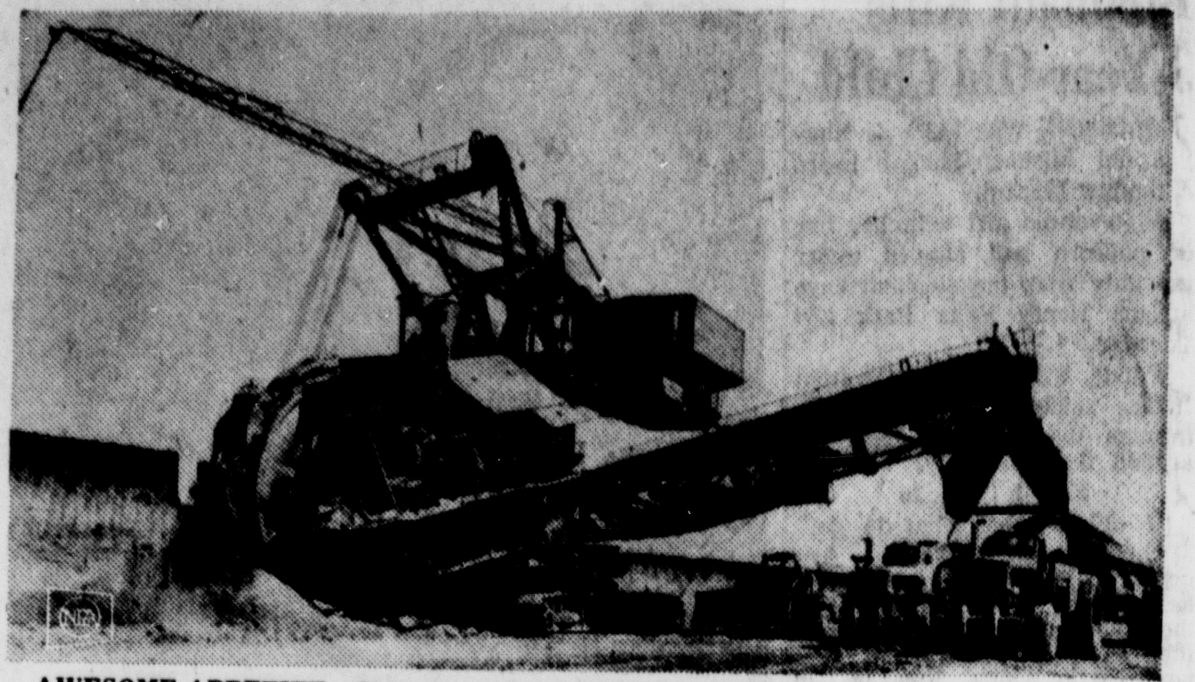

Be sure the chain is rust-proof.

Why We Say...

PERFECT: When we speak of something as a "Utopia" today we mean that it is perfect! The name was coined by Thomas More in 1516 for a book in which he describes an island where perfection was found in social life, politics and government... Only trouble is "Utopia" never existed.

AWESOME APPETITE—This giant wheel excavator can chew up 85,000 cubic yards of dirt a day. It is being used to scoop out earth fill for California's San Luis Dam project and moves enough earth each day to fill 1,700 trucks of 50-cubic-yard capacity each.

LOCAL MAN TESTIFIES—Internal Revenue Service Agent John R. Rosebrook, (left), of Kingston, walks along Federal Building corridor in Albany with Attorney Steele Langford of the U.S. Department of Justice. Rosebrook was summary witness for the government during income tax evasion trial of William J. Dawson of Cohoes. Langford was chief prosecutor. Convicted on two of three counts, Dawson was sentenced to two years in prison. He has appealed the verdict.

Frances Maule Dies at 88; Was Noted Author, Editor

Frances Maule, 88, of Broadview Road, Woodstock, author, editor and woman suffrage leader, died Tuesday after a long illness.

Born in Fairmont, Neb., Oct. 24, 1878, the daughter of John Penrose Maule, youngest prosecuting attorney in Lancaster County, Neb. and Mary Katherine Finnigan Maule, Miss Maule was educated at Lincoln, Neb. schools and the University of Nebraska.

She began her career as a reporter on the Denver Post under the tutelage of Winifred Black who wrote under the name of Nellie Bly.

Joined New York Paper

In the early 1900's Miss Maule joined the staff of the New York American as a reporter. In 1901 she married Edwin Bjorkman, New York Times reporter and noted magazine writer. He was official translator of the Strindberg plays published by Scribners. The marriage terminated in divorce in 1918.

Active in the woman suffrage movement, Miss Maule attained prominence as a speaker and organizer. She was a regular contributor to magazines and in the period from 1934 to 1957 wrote eight books on vocational guidance for women published by Funk and Wagnalls and later by Harper Brothers.

Editor for BPW

For 20 years she was editor of the Independent Woman, official publication of the National Federation and Professional Women's Clubs. The title was later changed to National Business Woman.

Miss Maule had been a permanent resident of Woodstock since her retirement. She had maintained a summer home there for many years.

Surviving are a brother, Harry E. Maule of Garden City; a niece, Katherine Maule Holke of Garden City; a nephew, David Updegraff of Minneapolis, Minn.

Funeral services will be held Friday 11 a. m. at the Lasher Funeral Home Inc., Woodstock. The Rev. William Francis of the Church of Christ on the Mount, Woodstock will officiate. Cremation will take place at the Gardner Earl Crematory, Troy. Interment will be at Greenwood

Trains as Specialist

WILLIAM J. PALEN

Airman William J. Palen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Palen of 1058 Columbia Street, Kingston, has been selected for technical training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., as a U.S. Air Force communications wiring specialist.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. His new school is part of the Air Training Command which conducts hundreds of specialized courses to provide technically trained personnel for the nation's aerospace force.

Airman Palen was graduated from Kingston High School in 1965 and attended Central College, Pella, Iowa.

Settle Seamen's Strike

LONDON (AP)—Britain's 45-day seamen's strike was settled today.

The executive committee of the National Seamen's Union voted 29 to 16 to call off the strike after meeting all morning at their South London headquarters.

The decision followed by less than 24 hours a charge in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Harold Wilson that Communists were pressuring the seamen to prolong the dispute for political motives.

Union Cemetery, Rye. Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday 7 to 9 p. m.

Clintondale

CLINTONDALE — The Town of Plattkill Public Health Committee held its regular meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Rhoda Mackey, Main Street. Plans for a child health clinic to be held at Hasbrouck Hall June 28 were discussed. Attending were Kathryn Decker, the Mmes. George Daley, Grace Coy, Thelma Pink, Lizzie Hyatt, Marian Jensen, Josephine Kimble, Mackey and the town nurse, Mrs. Robert Engle of New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Buko have returned from a honeymoon in the south and are making their home in Hyde Park. Mrs. Buko is the former Evelyn Conklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Conklin of Main Street.

The Rev. Purdy Halstead, new pastor of the Clintondale and Modena Methodist Churches will move into the parsonage at Modena June 30. The Rev. Mr. Halstead has a son and a daughter, both married. He has been minister at the Olivebridge Methodist Church. The Rev. William Robertson has been assigned to the Coeymans and Dornasville Churches.

Robert Daniels who was at Vassar Hospital for surgery is now recuperating at his home. The service at the Friends Meeting House Sunday morning will be at 10 o'clock, the summer schedule with the Rev. Gerald Sutch occupying the pulpit. Sunday school has been released for July and August.

David Ruff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Roehrs was a member of the graduating class at New Paltz High School Friday.

The inspectors of the voting districts in the Town of Plattkill, Clintondale, Plattkill and Modena attended an instruction meeting in the Supervisors Room in Kingston last Monday night. Instruction for procedures in Primary Day voting were stressed.

Jerome Hurd was elected a director of the Southern Ulster Migrant Assistance Committee. The organization will work with the migrants in the Towns of Lloyd, Marlboro, New Paltz and Plattkill.

Four hundred, including several from here, attending the Ulster County Supervisors Association dinner last Wednesday night at the Villa Nuova. Plattkill Supervisor Joseph Martorana was in charge of entertainment.

The Rev. Purdy Halstead will hold a service in the Methodist Church at 9:45 Sunday morning.

Action Expected

over differences in Gov. Rockefeller's $355-million supplemental budget.

Major Hurdles

The tax and budget issues posed the major hurdles to final adjournment of the 1966 Legislature, which has been in session longer than any in 55 years.

Brydges and Travia both said they still hoped to ring down the curtain by week's end. Each conceded, however, that this depended upon quick removal of the two big impediments.

Brydges called his GOP bloc into conference before reconvening the Senate—both houses had recessed for the primary election—to review party policy on the city-tax question.

The Republican leader has insisted that the city transit fare should be raised to 20 or 25 cents to put the deficit-ridden transit system on a self-supporting basis. This, he says, would relieve the need for additional revenues for the financially hard-pressed city.

Provides For Tax

The $253-million tax package negotiated two weeks ago would empower Mayor John V. Lindsay to impose a city income tax on residents and an "earnings tax" on commuters paychecks to help balance Lindsay's $46-billion budget.

Travia, the Legislature's leading Democrat, has championed the 15-cent fare, however, and has looked with sympathy on efforts by the Democratic-controlled City Council to find ways of subsidizing it.

Three deadlines figured prominently in the maneuvering. By law, Lindsay has until midnight tonight to certify the source of revenues for his budget.

Beyond that, the city's new fiscal year begins July 1—Friday. Without legislative approval of the tax package, Lindsay would be obliged to slash his budget to achieve the balance required by law.

Served Notice

Finally, the City Transit Authority has served notice that it must have financial help by July 1 or that it will be forced to raise the fare at least to 20 cents.

Brydges indicated Monday that he might defer action on the tax bills until the transit authority promulgated an increase.

The dispute over the supplemental budget centers on refusal of the Democrats to approve items they had trimmed from Rockefeller's main budget of $3.9 billion last March.

Rockefeller sought to restore much of the $63 million reduction by re-offering the items in the supplemental bill, which is presented annually toward the end of the session.

Among the disputed appropriations are a $30 million advance to the East Hudson River Parkway Authority for road improvements, $10 million for a new men's prison near Kingston and $2.5 million for building a nuclear-powered plant on Long Island to turn salt water into fresh water.

Much of the balance of the $355-million bill is in the form of "first-instance" appropriations—pending requests in anticipation of early reimbursement, such as federal aid.

Local Death Record

John Bostel

The funeral of John Bostel of East Kingston who died Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Deegan Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs Street, Tuesday 9:15 a. m. thence to St. Coleman's Church, East Kingston where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Vincent P. Brennan. Responses to the Mass were sung by St. Coleman's choir. Many called at the funeral home and many floral tributes and spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards were received. Monday evening the members of St. Coleman's Altar Society with those assembled at the funeral home were led in the recitation of the Rosary by Father Brennan. Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery where Father Brennan gave the final blessing.

He was a member of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, the Hercules Quarter Century Club and Airstream Trailer Club. He was the husband of the late Josephine Margiotta Howard, who died in December, 1963. Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Minnie Britt Howard, of Port Ewen, and an aunt, Mrs. Ella A. Schoonmaker, of Kingston. The funeral service will be held at the Keyser Funeral Service Port Ewen Chapel Friday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery. Friends will be received at the Port Ewen chapel Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Miss Margaret M. Martin

Miss Margaret M. Martin of 34 Taylor Street died this morning after a long illness. She was a daughter of the late James E. and Mary McGuire Martin, and had been a lifelong resident of Kingston. Miss Martin was a well known seamstress. She was a member of the Rosary Society of St. Joseph's Church, a former officer of the Democratic Club and had served as Democratic committeeman from the 12th Ward. Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. M. T. O'Brien of Pleasantville, N. J., Miss Katherine Martin, Miss Anna G. Martin and Mrs. Charles (Agnes) Kelly, all of Kingston. Several nieces and nephews also survive. Friends may call at the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., 296 Fair Street, Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. where funeral will be held Friday at 9:30 a. m. and from St. Joseph's Church at 10 o'clock where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Stephen J. Keating

The funeral of Lt. Col. Stephen J. Keating, U. S. Army (ret.) of Hurley who died Sunday was held from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs Street, Tuesday 10:30 a. m. thence to St. Joseph's Church where at 11 a. m. a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. James V. Keating. Responses to the Mass were sung by the Sisters of St. Ursula. Many called at the funeral home and many floral tributes as well as spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards were received. Monday evening ritualistic services were conducted by officers and members of Kingston Post 150, American Legion. Sisters of St. Ursula called for the recitation of the Rosary. Numerous officials of the New York Central Railroad System also called. Monday evening the Rev. John T. Mulligan led those assembled at the funeral home in the recitation of the Rosary. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Keating gave the final blessing. Full military honors were accorded at graveside by the officers and members of 1st Battalion, 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard. Members of the firing squad were WO Robert Johnson, Master Sergeant William Steyer, Master Sgt. Robert Emberson, and Sgt. Joseph Sullivan. Officer in charge was CWO Jack Reynolds. The flag folding ceremony was conducted by Lt. Col. Frank Fabbie and Chief Warrant Officer Edio Ferrari. The flag was presented by Col. Fabbie. Bugler was Richard Nardone of Kingston High School. Honorary bearers were Alexander Rodie, Robert C. Weston, William Tacorchiek, Lawrence Dymont, Edward L. Davey. Bearers were Robert Keating, Copeland Gates, Henry P. Barnmann, John Barnmann, Cornelius Rahilly and John Kirn.

Computer System

area offices in these states. Service in other states follow as additional representatives are appointed," Hoppenfeld said.

"Our first service will cover federal law citations relating to patents, copyrights and trademarks," the Western Union executive continued. "Citations from the body of law of 12 states will be added to the central computer within 30 days and additional states will follow at the rate of about one state every two weeks."

"Our schedule calls for updating our citation file every two weeks by adding the newer cases to the computer," Hoppenfeld said. "When our citation file is completely programmed we expect it will provide more than a half-million code references on all pertinent federal and state cases."

Operations Explained

Hoppenfeld explained the operations of the legal citation service. "The distant law research service area office, or authorized customer, is equipped with a direct-dial teletypewriter and a set of thesauri which are under-broadcast listing legal citations by words or descriptive phrases. When the LRS area office receives a customer inquiry the proper thesaurus is examined and the applicable code selected for the computer query."

"Transmission of a four-digit number on the teletypewriter connects the subscriber with Western Union's central computer which confirms the connection with an automatic answer-back. Then a 10-digit number, relating to the desired information, is taken from the coded thesaurus and typed over the teletypewriter to the central computer in New York."

To Begin Marketing

"The computer searches its memory, locates the requested data, and replies immediately by printing out the citations on the teletypewriter in the subscriber's office," Hoppenfeld said. "Active marketing of the new service by our directors will begin immediately, and we expect that as our citation file expands so will the number of customers."

Hoppenfeld said charges for the new service will range from $12 to $15 for each transaction which represents four inquiries, or requests for citations. "Up to 10 citations are provided automatically for each inquiry number or a maximum of 40 citations per transaction," Hoppenfeld continued.

"Law research area offices are now established in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Florida, Georgia, Texas, California and Washington, D. C.," Hoppenfeld said. "Other offices are planned, eventually, to cover all continental states and Canada."

Law Research Service, Inc., has the business and legal responsibility for providing the citation service while Western Union provides the national communication and on-line computer retrieval system.

Joseph A. Vidal, of Hurley, is manager of the Kingston Western Union offices at 237 Fair Street.

Memorial

LONG—In loving memory of my husband and our father, Frank Long, who passed away one year ago today, June 29, 1965.

God saw the road was getting rough,

The hills were hard to climb, He gently closed your loving eyes,

Whispering Frank, peace be thine,

Your weary hours, your days of pain,

Your weary nights have passed, Your ever patient worried frame, Has found sweet rest at last.

Wife, NELLIE Daughters, ELLEN, BERNICE

Memorial

In loving memory of my dear brother, Robert O. Lambert, who passed away 3 years ago today, June 29, 1963.

God took him home, it was His will

But in our hearts we love him still,

His memory is as dear today As in the hour he passed away. We often sit and think of him When we are all alone.

For memory is the only friend That grief can call its own. His life was earnest, his actions kind,

A generous hand and an active mind, Anxious to please, loath to offend,

A loving brother and faithful friend.

Card of Thanks

The family of Stephen J. Keating wishes to express its appreciation to all friends for their kindness and sympathy.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors, relatives, employees of I.B.M. and Sisters of St. Mary's, Saugerties, for their acts of kindness, expressions of sympathy, floral tributes and Mass cards received during our recent bereavement in the loss of my husband and our father, Jack E. Page.

WIFE and CHILDREN

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends, neighbors, relatives and various organizations for the many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during the long illness and passing of our loved one.

Area Aerodrome Featured on TV

Local television viewers were treated to a few minutes of action packed video viewing originating out of Rhinebeck, on a nationally televised news program Monday night. Cole Palen's Old Rhinebeck Aerodrome, which has gained global fame in recent years, was featured in a sequence which had been taped for the Huntley and Brinkley Report on NBC. The film was shown over Channel 4 on Monday between 7 and 7:30 p. m.

Recreated for the viewing audiences was a "dog-fight" between two World War I airplanes. With two dare-devil pilots flying fabric-covered, slow moving craft, the relics of the war to end all wars went through their paces to bring alive action which made headlines decades ago.

Palen was at the controls of his 1918 Nieuport 28, once considered the best aircraft furnished the fledgling U.S. 94th and 95th Aero Squadrons of World War I, who scored their first resounding victories in planes of this type. Historians have noted that this particular plane had "the unfortunate habit of shedding its wings in a dive," but Monday's show went off without a lost wing in evidence.

German Plane Seen

Another veteran flyer fought it out with Palen over Rhinebeck for the Huntley and Brinkley Report. Piloting Palen's 1917 night.

Fokker D VII, known as the finest fighter aircraft of World War I, he put the German plane through paces which made it the mainstay of the Rhineland's "Flying Circus" led by Baron Manfred von Richthofen, who has been given credit for 80 official victories.

It was a razzle dazzle few minutes and, fittingly, it came short months after the 62nd anniversary of the first history making flight of the Wright brothers. The classic air battle between top German and Allied fighter planes of an earlier age as it was recreated in the skies over Rhinebeck was exciting television entertainment and was made even more so when compared with the preceding segment, which pictured the gigantic new passenger plane capable of making the run from New York to Los Angeles in two hours.

Ground Shots Included

For the filming, NBC technicians came from New York City to shoot the sequence, which included ground shots as well as sky dives.

World War I ace Eddie Rickenschlager, who chalked up over 26 victories and received the Congressional Medal of Honor, once called Palen's collection of planes "too dangerous to fly," but they were flown to a farewell on television Monday night.

FBI Grads Will Go to Conference Three Days, NYC

John F. Malone, Assistant Director in Charge of the New York Office of the FBI announced that the FBI National Academy graduates from 10 northeastern states plan to attend a conference to be held in New York City from July 4 through July 7.

According to Mr. Malone, this is the fourth conference of this type ever to be held, and over 300 law enforcement officers are expected to attend. Its purpose is to update the training received at the FBI National Academy. Seminars will be offered on Federal constitutional law as applied to searches and seizures, probable cause for arrest and due process in criminal investigation. Such topics as "Police Problems in a Metropolitan Area," "Modern Concepts in Law Enforcement" and "The Prowler and His Connection with Sex Crimes" will also be on the program. Similar sectional conferences were held last year in Newport Beach, California and Atlanta, Georgia, and in Kansas City, Missouri, in June. Henceforth, they will be held in each of the four sections of the United States once every four years. Certificates will be awarded to every officer who satisfactorily completes the course.

The FBI National Academy, often referred to as the "West Point of Law Enforcement," will complete its 31st year on July 29th. Since it was founded in 1935, 4,936 men have graduated from the Academy. More than 27 per cent of those still active in law enforcement are heads of their respective departments.

PLAN VOLS CONVENTION — Local volunteer fire companies will be host to the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association which is scheduled Thursday to Saturday, July 28, 29 and 30 with a parade on Saturday starting 4 p. m. Featured in the parade will be 50 companies, 20 ladies auxiliaries and 23 musical units. Committee members in charge of the event are, front row, l-r, Leon Studt, refreshments; Augustus Lovy, treasurer and Charles Reis, refreshments. In the back row, same order are Rodney DuBois, president of the County organization; John Dittus Jr., publicity; Robert Hinkley, secretary; Edwin Kolts, badges; former Kingston Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, grand marshal of parade and reception committee member; Miller Locke, banquet and Fred Harder, program committee and County secretary. Not in picture are Addison Jones, general chairman; William Dederick, parade chairman and Walter Buboltz, assistant parade chairman. Next meeting of the committee will take place Tuesday, July 5 at 8 p. m. Freeman photo by Kruh

Claims Hospital Rates Will Double

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — An authority on medical care foresees the possibility that "hospital costs will double in the next ten years."

Dr. S. J. Axelrod, chairman of the department of medical care organization at the University of Michigan, presented that view Tuesday at the ninth annual Hospital Administrators Development Program, at Cornell University.

He said, however, that any increase in costs "should not be frightening as it will come about largely because of improvements in new technology and the availability and quality of medical care."

Axelrod also attacked one of the major criticisms of the federal Medicare program, which becomes effective Friday.

"The Medicare legislation should not be blamed solely for the current crisis in health manpower needs," he said.

"While it may contribute to the situation to some extent,

Civil Rights Voting Marks Meeting of House Judiciary

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tough open housing proposal remained in the administration's civil right bill today after a series of inconclusive votes in the House Judiciary Committee.

In a frustrating, day-long meeting Tuesday, the committee refused to kill the controversial issue, refused to weaken it and refused to approve it intact. It meets again today in hopes of settling the matter.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., summed up the mood of the crisis has come about because we have not faced up in the past to the real need for medical manpower."

About 25 medical administrators are attending the month-long conference.

the supporters of an open housing law when he said, "I'm happy inwardly that it is still intact, but from a practical standpoint the situation may prove disappointing."

Celler said he meant that a sweeping ban on racial discrimination in the sale and rental of all housing could be defeated more easily on the House floor than a bill that exempted some forms of housing.

Closed Meeting

From the pattern of voting in the committee Tuesday it appeared that was the strategy guiding some opponents of the measure. The meeting was closed and no votes were made public. But it was reported by some in attendance that Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans joined liberals in opposing amendments that would have softened the provision.

The housing provision is part of an omnibus bill whose other sections deal with selection of state and federal jurors, school Negroes' rights. The other sections already have been approved by the committee and are expected to encounter little opposition on the House floor outside of that from Southerners.

No Southerners on the committee would comment publicly on their positions, but many are known to be looking forward to seeing Northern House members have to vote on the record for or against an open housing law. It is widely believed in the House that in such a vote the proposal would be defeated.

Beat Amendments

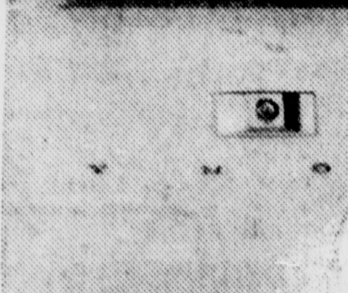

Early in the session the committee defeated, 17 to 15, a motion to kill the housing provision. Some five hours later a motion to approve it was defeated 25 to 6. In between a whole series of amendments to exempt certain kinds of housing were beaten — mostly by margins of two or three votes.

The committee also rejected an amendment that would have scrapped the section and called on President Johnson to issue an executive order against racial discrimination in housing.

Eisenhower Day

LIFE SAVERS

IF YOU OBEY THEM

Commander Whitehead enjoys working weekends, sampling Schweppes Tonic.

Why is Commander Whitehead taking a Schweppesman's holiday?

THE President of Schweppes (U.S.A.) Ltd. answers this question in a frank memo to hardworking businessmen: "I just can't bear to leave my work behind. I feel a compulsion to take it home with me—cases and cases of it. "But I wouldn't advise you to take your own work home with you.

"Take mine, instead.

"Schweppes Tonic is perfect for lazy, leisure hours," the Commander goes on. "Pour it down the side of a glass, over ice, with gin or vodka or rum. Curiously refreshing. And relaxing, too, because you don't have to rush to beat the patrician little bubbles to the bottom of the glass.

"We call these bubbles Schweppes-escence. They have been keeping businessmen's spirits up since the vintage year 1794."

Get Schweppes in no-deposit, no-return bottles. They're convenient, and they guard the flavor, too.

Most Incumbents Win Primary Elections

By GERRY MCLAUGHLIN

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Most of the incumbent legislators tested in the New York primary elections savored victory today and set their sights on triumph in the November balloting.

In Senate primaries Tuesday, however, the incumbent casualties were fairly high, partially as a result of a court-handled reapportionment that forced some senators to oppose their colleagues. Six incumbent senators were defeated.

In all, there were 10 races for Senate seats and 51 for nomination to the Assembly.

Most Dems Win

Most of the veteran Democrats involved in New York City fended off bids to unseat them.

The outcome of at least two contests appeared to reflect conflicting sentiment on the state's new controversial medical assistance law. An Upstate assemblyman who has received sharp criticism for endorsing the plan won renomination. A senator who also backed was defeated.

In Upstate Republican senatorial clashes pitting incumbents against one another:

— Freshman Ronald B. Stafford of Peru won over Nathan Prollier of Glens Falls in the 42nd District.

— Dalwin J. Niles of Johnstown triumphed over freshman Robert E. Lynch of Scotia in the 41st District.

In Senate primaries for New York City seats in which all the contestants were incumbent Democrats:

— Freshman Harrison J. Goldin upended a legislative veteran, Jerome Schutler for the nomination in the 30th District, in the Bronx.

The veteran Abraham Bernstein bested first-year man Archie A. Gorfinkel in another Bronx district — the 32nd. New York City balloting also produced victory for former Sen. Ivan Warner, who challenged incumbent freshman Dennis R. Coleman in the 31st District in the Bronx.

In another New York City battle, lightweight boxing champion Carlos Ortiz bowed to Eugene Rodriguez in balloting for the 29th District Democratic nomination.

Upstate, Democratic Sen. Bertrand H. Hoak of Buffalo, who voted for the medical-aid plan in April, lost to James D. Griffin, a former Democratic city councilman who campaigned in opposition to the program, in the election for the 56th District nomination.

Assemblyman Donald L. Taylor of Watertown, who supported the medical aid plan, scored a victory, however, in the GOP balloting for the Assembly GOP nomination in the 111th District.

Among the New York City Democrats who cleared the primary hurdle were two prominent Negro assemblymen—Percy E. Sutton of Manhattan and Assembly Whip Bertram L. Baker of Brooklyn.

Insurgent Scores

On the Republican side, former Troy Mayor Neil Kelleher, an insurgent, defeated the Rensselaer County GOP organization's candidate, Frank E. Popp, for the nomination for the 101st Assembly District seat.

Among the incumbent assemblymen who went down to defeat was Democrat J. Lewis Fox of Queens, who has been indicted for perjury in a case of horsemeat for regular meat involving alleged substitution of horsemeat for regular meat by a major packing company.

Corning Official Is on IBM Board

NEW YORK—Amory Houghton Jr., board chairman and chief executive officer of Corning Glass Works, was elected Tuesday to the board of directors of International Business Machines Corporation.

Houghton is a director of the B. F. Goodrich Company, New York Telephone Company, Corning Glass Works of Canada Ltd., Pittsburgh Corning Corporation, Dow Corning Corporation, Corhart Refractories Company and a member of the trust advisory board of the First National City Bank.

He is a member of the Board of Overseers of Harvard University as well as the boards of St. Paul's School and the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass.

Houghton is also a member of the board of the National Industrial Conference Board, a trustee of the Corning Glass Works Foundation and The Corning Museum of Glass.

Note Retirement Of Mechanic in Fire Department

JAMES M. HUTTON

Resignation of James M. Hutton, of 15 Wynkoop Place, as Fire Department equipment mechanic, was accepted Tuesday night by the Board of Fire Commissioners "with extreme regret." It becomes effective Aug. 1, and he is to retire after 35 years of service. Appointed to the department on April 1, 1931, as a third grade fireman, he was named temporary supervisor of motors on July 31, 1951, and became equipment mechanic on Sept. 1, 1952. The board praised Hutton for having "always rendered a full measure of unstinted devotion to duty, and in many cases above and beyond the call of duty during his 35 years of service." It extended to him "in behalf of a grateful citizenry, sincere appreciation for a job well done in the highest tradition of the fire service," and wished him "a happy and healthful retirement for many years to come." No successor has been named, to date.

Top Scholarship Awards Are Won By UCCC Grads

Ten Ulster County Community College graduates have received 11 scholarships, totaling $2,600, to continue their education at four-year colleges. Seven students also received college prizes and awards.

The scholarships, prizes and awards were given out at a Presentation of Awards program conducted at the temporary college campus, 214 West Chestnut Street, Kingston.

Speaking at the ceremony were Dr. Dale B. Lake, College President, and Dr. Sherman H. Masten, Dean of the College.

Age Closes Plant

LEOMINSTER, Mass. (AP) — Age is blamed for a projected Sept. 1 closing of the Leominster Division of the Mead Corp., paper mills.

A company spokesman has told the 140 employees the 86-year-old plant can't compete successfully with more modern facilities.

"These scholarships serve two purposes," said Dr. Lake. "First, they provide a means of encouraging deserving students to continue their education at four-year colleges after completing their first two years and receiving a degree at Ulster County Community College. Without these scholarships, many of these students would be unable to continue their education. It is important for them to continue their studies because they have shown, through their studies at U.C.C.C., they possess the ability to receive great benefit from this advanced study."

"Secondly," said Dr. Lake, "these scholarships will serve as an incentive for other students still enrolled at U.C.C.C. For these students will know an opportunity for advanced study is open to them if they excel in their studies and I'm sure these grants will help to foster a high degree of scholarship."

Speaking of the prize and award selections Dean Masten lauded the winners for their endeavors.

"It is fitting to have these awards and prizes," he said, "to spotlight the achievements of these outstanding college students. They have excelled at the college and now they are being recognized for their attainments."

Winners Listed

Miss Linda J. Chick, 85 Crane Street, Kingston, received a Kingston Rotary Club scholarship and a second scholarship offered by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd R. LeFevre, Kingston. She plans to continue her studies at the State University of New York College at Plattsburg.

Miss Sandra J. Johnson, West Hurley, who plans to attend the State University of New York at Albany next fall, received a scholarship from the Kingston Chapter of the American Association of University Women. Miss Rosalyn A. Marcus, 71 Green Street, Kingston, and John A. McCullough, Jr., 98 Spring Street, Kingston, received scholarships from the Kingston Lions Club. Miss Marcus plans to enter the State University of New York at Albany, while Mr. McCullough will continue his studies at Syracuse University.

John W. Kelse, Jr., 22 Ohio Street, Kingston, who will enter Wagner College, received a scholarship from the Ulster Knife Company, Ellenville.

James S. Orsulich, Saugerties, who has transferred to the State University of New York at Albany, was awarded a scholarship from the Ellenville Savings Bank.

The scholarship from the Berger Agency, Inc., Ellenville, was presented to Robert J. Stockli, Gardiner. He plans to continue his education at the State University of New York at Albany.

Roger A. West, Modena, who has transferred to Murray State College, received a scholarship from the B.B. Oil Company, Ellenville.

A scholarship from the First National Bank and Trust Company, Ellenville, was awarded to Roger Yetzer, Saugerties, who plans to enroll at the State University of New York at Binghamton.

Miss Gail P. Zimmerman, 156 East Chester Street, Kingston, received scholarships from the Channel Master Corp., Ellenville, and the Ellenville National Bank. She has transferred to the State University of New York at Binghamton.

Selected by Committee

The scholarship winners were selected by the Scholarship Committee at the College.

Miss Karen Ann Graham, Saugerties, the first girl to graduate in the Mechanical Technology program at U.C.C.C. and the commencement speaker this year for the graduating seniors, won the Book Center Prize from the Northeast News Company.

Mrs. Roberta Natoli, Woodstock, won Division of Humanities Prize, and Theodore C. Swingle, Route 3, Kingston, won the Law Award and Muroff-Kotler Fine Arts Prize.

Mr. West won the Office Staff Award, Miss Marcus won the Faculty Wives Award, and Miss Johnson and Miss Charlotte A. Stange, Stone Ridge, won the Executive Secretarial Prizes.

UCCC AWARD RECIPIENTS—Officials of Ulster County Community College present scholarships and other college awards to top graduates in ceremonies held on temporary campus, 214 West Chestnut Street. A total of $2,600 in 11 scholarships went to 10 UCCC graduates, while seven—including some winners of the scholarships—received college prizes and awards. Above, Dr. Dale N. Lake, college president, makes scholarship certificate presentation to (l-r) first row, John A. McCullough Jr., Miss Gail Zimmerman, Miss Rosalyn A. Marcus, Miss Sandra J. Johnson, Miss Linda J. Chick and John W. Kelse Jr., and second row, Roger Yetzer, James Orsulich, Robert A. West and Robert Stockli. Below, award winners who received certificates from Dean Sherman H. Masten, include (l-r) Miss Karen A. Graham, Mrs. Roberta Natoli, Miss Marcus, Miss Johnson, West and Theodore Swingle. President Lake and Dean Masten had high praise for the scholarship and award winners for their performances while students in the college and cited their goals toward higher education. They also stressed that the scholarships, many of which were donated by local individuals, firms and organizations in the Kingston-Ellenville area, will serve as an incentive for other students enrolled at UCCC. Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON, AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Sound, fury and confusion swirled through the nation's economy in the first half of 1966. Almost everything got bigger, although as the first half ends there's some doubt if everything got better.

The long economic upswing suddenly became a boom in the first three months of the year. Then just as suddenly the emphasis changed from the danger of overheating to the threat of a chilling slowdown, even the possibility of an incipient turnaround.

Debate Raged

An inflation debate raged, changed direction, and now is bogged in confusion: Is inflation already here? A continuing threat? A receding bugaboo?

The tax debate still swirls: Is a federal tax increase needed to cool down a still bubbling economy? To pay for a more expensive war in Viet Nam than so far officially admitted?

And gaining in intensity and confusion as the first half moves into history is the battle of tight money. Interest rates are rising, both those that borrowers must pay and those that savers can command. Is the economy, or a part of it, being hurt? Or is the prosperous economic expansion being saved?

The year started with a clash between the administration and the steel industry over a price hike. This ended in a compromise, with the increases cut in half. And as the first six months unfolded, compromises seemed to be taking most of the zip out of the administration's attempt to guide wage and price policies.

The stock market bounced all over the place, to the confusion of the investing public.

Car sales and output boomed in the first three months, then went into a decline that chilled both the stock traders and the general public.

Far From Sick

But in dollars and cents the economy looked far from sick. The Gross National Product was running at an annual rate of $697 billion in the final three months of 1965. This measure of the nation's output of goods and services jumped to $714 billion in the first quarter of 1966, and despite all the talk about slowdowns is running at an estimated $725 billion annual rate at midyear.

Most people are doing all right. Personal income rose from an annual rate of $552 billion in January to $565 billion in May. Personal consumption outlays went from an annual rate of $441 billion in the fourth quarter of 1965 to $453 billion in the first quarter of 1966. Part of this was due to a drop in the rate of savings. But part was due to the rise in the cost of living. The index stood at 111 per cent of the 1957-59 average in January, but by May had risen to 112.6 per cent.

Employment climbed in the first half of this year, but so did the size of the labor force. The jobless rate was 4 per cent in January and in May, but in

Man Is Sentenced For Pick Slaying

MAYVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — A 72-year-old man has been sentenced to serve 2½ to 4 years in prison for the ice-pick slaying of his wife of 11 months.

Michael Jakubowski of Dun-kirk was ordered Tuesday sent to Attica State Prison by Judge Edwin G. O'Connor of Chautauque County Court.

Jakubowski pleaded guilty last week to a charge of first-degree manslaughter in the death June 13, 1965 of his wife, Wanda, 52. Police said he walked into Police headquarters after the stabbing and said he had slain her in their apartment.

Officials said the stabbing followed an argument over money.

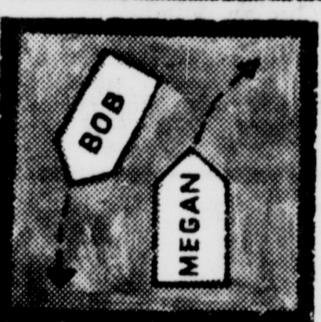

In pronouncing sentence Tuesday, O'Connor said:

"I realize there was considerable provocation for doing what he did do, but this does not give him the right to kill her. The couple lived at 502 Deer St."

Sign of Summer

First sign of summer could be you in a flowering of flowing chiffon. A summer bouquet of printed silk chiffon — freshly picked for now—for you. This season's loveliest fashion news could be an ensemble of a free-flowing coat with a bare-armed dress beneath or the smock style with a carelessly tossed matching scarf.

Why Bob Watson and Megan O'Brien missed each other:

They're both defensive drivers. And they know the only way to beat the law of centrifugal force is to slow down before entering a curve. So they do. It's a defensive driving technique that can save you from a head-on collision. Are you a defensive driver?

Farmers Warned Overwork Could Cripple Heart

Work and moderate exercise are good for almost everyone, including people with heart disease. But it is important not to overload the equipment. This applies to the farmer as well as to farm machinery, according to the Mid-Hudson Association.

Your physical capacity depends on many things — age, health and body build, for example. Your capacity to work is also affected by such factors as experience, weather and your state of mind.

Heat Causes Strain

In the summer, you are more likely to overload your heart; the chores you may do easily in cooler weather put more stress on your heart when the temperature goes up. This is because the heart must supply more blood to the skin to cool the body while it is also supplying blood to the working muscles.

Your body will gradually adjust to summer heat but this takes time. So go easy during the first two or three weeks of hot weather.

Some of the pointers worked out by research scientists to help the farmer with heart disease can be wisely applied to your own outdoor work, whether or not you have heart trouble.

Points To Remember

1. Work at the steady unhurried pace that suits you.
2. Take plenty of short rests (rather than fewer long ones).
3. Use your head to save your heart by planning an easier way to do the job.
4. Don't strain yourself. In emergencies, get help or wait until you can be helped.
5. Keep physically fit the year round. Start on a new job slowly and give yourself time to adjust to the work.

6. Keep an eye on the weather. Don't try to do as much work in hot, humid weather as you do in cool weather.

7. Take your age into account. Use the know-how you have acquired to make up for reduced physical capacity.

8. Keep your weight normal. Don't drag around extra pounds.

9. Learn to handle emotional stresses. Talk your problems out with the right person. Discuss physical problems with your doctor, personal problems with a friend or clergyman, agricultural problems with the county agent or a fellow farmer.

Whenever you can stay in the shade; avoid the direct summer sun. A sun shade on the tractor will help reduce heat stress. A conventional yellow shade with a hole in the center and a mounted fan to blow air downward is the most effective of many types tested. (Tractors with air-conditioned cabs are available.)

List Precautions

A breeze, natural or fan-made, helps you lose body heat by evaporating perspiration. Clothing should be absorbent as well as loose fitting, moderately thick and light in color. A hat, preferably a foil-lined sun helmet, is a necessity.

A slow steady rate of work, with short rest periods taken in the shade, will get the job done without doing you in. When your work makes you short of breath or causes chest pain, either you are working too fast or the work is too hard for you. report to your doctor whenever a job you are accustomed to doing easily seems difficult or causes discomfort.

People must learn to live within their physical capacity at any age, whether they are sick or well. Thoughtful planning and good organization will get the job done with much less effort. Poor planning and waste motions make a person use far more energy than necessary.

You'll find more information in the booklet, "A Safe Work Load for Farmers with Heart Disease," which is based on findings of the Purdue Farm Cardiac Research Project, a scientific study performed at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. The booklet was published by the American Heart Association and is available free from Mid-Hudson Heart Association, 268 Fair Street, Kingston.

What a House Guest

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — His wife's choice of a house guest helped break up his marriage about two weeks after the wedding date, a petitioner related in a divorce suit.

The petitioner said he and his wife were married March 17 and separated about April 1. "Briefly after the marriage," he related in the petition, his wife "invited into the home an old boy friend to stay and live in the home."

July 4 Data Is Recalled by DAR; Local Park Cited

The Wiltwyck Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution has compiled a list of significant data relative to the Fourth of July historical celebration.

The Declaration of Independence was adopted on July 4, 1776 at Independence Hall, which is located on Chestnut Street in Philadelphia.

The document was publicly read July 8, 1776 from a platform in the Square in front of the building. Here George Washington was also made Commander-in-Chief of the army that fought and won the American Revolution.

The local DAR Chapter also noted some data pertaining to Academy Green Park in Kingston, and reports that "Presidents and governors have made addresses here, and important public affairs of all kinds have been held upon the Green including Fourth of July celebrations, when the Declaration of Independence was read."

DAR representatives also remind area citizens that "our men are fighting today and dying in Viet Nam attempting to preserve that hard-won freedom for others than Americans. Let us pause in our pursuit of pleasure and gaiety and reflect seriously upon the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship both native and acquired."

Oswald: "Here is an example of bidding at its best. There are any number of ways to get to six diamonds but when the hand was played at the Valley View Studio in Dallas less than half the pairs reached the slam while the others settled for bidding three no-trump and making five."

Jim: "I'm going to comment on all the bidding. The opening heart bid and two diamonds response are standard. So is North's immediate diamond raise but I am afraid that those pairs that missed the slam did so because North decided to rebid his five-card heart suit instead of raising his partner's diamonds. After that immediate raise South was very slam minded. He might have gone the Blackwood route but he decided to show his ace of spades. North went to three no-trump. He did not know if his partner was aiming for no-trump or a diamond slam but he did have a club stopper. When South took out the no-trump into four diamonds, North knew that South was heading for a slam and showed his ace of clubs."

Oswald: "South might have tried for seven but he remembered that North had merely bid three no-trump at his previous turn to bid so South settled for the small slam."

Jim: "It is interesting to note that North never bothered to rebid his five-card heart suit. Instead he chose to raise diamonds, bid three no-trump and cue-bid his ace of clubs."

Oswald: "There were lots of ways to play the hand also. South decided to duck the first spade. He won the second. Played two rounds of trumps and ruffed a spade. He came back to his hand with the king of clubs, drew the last trump and claimed the balance."

Wants U.S. to State Plans On Withdrawing Its Troops

EDITOR'S NOTE—John M. Hightower is on a tour of European capitals to report on the views about the United States held abroad. A Pulitzer Prize winner, Hightower regularly covers the State Department and diplomatic affairs for The Associated Press in Washington.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin's outspoken mayor, Willy Brandt, says if the United States intends to withdraw any more troops from West Germany it should state its plans "in plain language to grown-up people in Germany."

"One should talk to grown-up people," Brandt said in an interview with The Associated Press, "and if the situation makes it necessary or possible to change certain things in detail, this should be based upon the situation and upon agreement. Why, then, argue about it?"

His comment was the latest from an important West German political figure reflecting criticism of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's temporary reduction of U.S. forces in Germany this summer without—in the German view—consultation or advance notice.

Open Criticism

Former Chancellor Konrad

Adenauer, and other authorities in the ruling Christian Democratic party, recently have criticized McNamara publicly. Chancellor Ludwig Erhard in an interview last weekend warned against any heavy U.S. troops withdrawals from Germany and specifically rejected a McNamara view that if the Soviets pulled forces back, the United States might also reduce its forces.

Brandt, whose city stands in the heart of a Communist land under the protection of U.S., British and French garrisons, deplored critical potshotting at every "small regroupment" of U.S. forces.

But he added: "On the other hand, I must say that when a regroupment is to take place the plan could as well be told in plain language to grown-up people in Germany."

The United States has temporarily reduced its forces from 225,000 to 210,000 in Germany by transferring 15,000 military specialists needed because of the war in Viet Nam. When word of the cutback first came from Washington several weeks ago West Germans professed to be caught by surprise and have displayed irritation at the incident as well as uneasiness that McNamara might not forewarn them of some new move in the future.

Brandt said he thought any substantial changes in U.S. forces here should be made only "as a result of a common study and judgment (by the United States and West Germany) upon what is necessary and what is wise."

Wants Debates

Brandt, who is apt to speak like an orator even in private conversation, waved his hands and stabbed the air with his finger to emphasize his enthusiasm for a proposed series of debates between his Socialists and East German Communist party leaders on the division of Germany.

The Communists are stalling, and Brandt said the plan to start the speech-making July 14 in East Germany "doesn't look too well" at the moment. He expressed confidence, however, the unprecedented exchange will take place eventually.

His hope, he said, is to reach agreement through these discussions to ease the problems of people who live in divided villages, who can't visit the graves of their ancestors or attend the marriages of their children. Cultural and economic exchanges also should be promoted, Brandt added.

Rejects Soviet Line

Brandt, like Chancellor Er-

hard in the interview last weekend, rejected the Soviet line that Germany can be united by direct action between its two regimes — those of Erhard and Red boss Walter Ulbricht. West Germany has never recognized the existence of East Germany except as the "Soviet Zone."

Brandt said his administration in Berlin had to recognize more than two years ago the wall which the Communists built in 1961 "will stand there for some time. Nor will it disappear as an isolated thing. It is part of a larger situation."

The government manages 148 national forests with a total of about 181,000,000 acres.

Man Is Fined $250 in Court

Robert Roosa, 61, of 56 Van Buren Street, charged June 13 with "possession of policy bets" was sentenced in city court today.

Roosa had pleaded guilty after his arrest and City Judge Hubert A. Richter today fined him $250 plus a suspended sentence of 60 days in jail and placed him on probation for a period not to exceed three years. He was arrested on Liberty Street near Broadway by Detectives Charles McCullough, Albert Hutton and John Crespinio.

Police said the arrest was the 15th, to date, this year made here on gambling charges. Several of them were made in February and March.

Draft Statement

no statement to make about the meeting, but "a statement is being formulated" and will be released later.

On Tuesday, Dr. MacFadden said it was not expected that any definite "policy" toward Medicaid would be devised at the meeting.

The session followed a paid advertisement in area newspapers on Monday in which the Orange County Medical Society stated it would refuse to participate in the Medicaid program until the law is amended.

Susquehanna River Proponents Have Big Selling Job on Tap

By VINCENT P. CAROCCI

HARRISBURG (AP) — Proponents of the proposed Susquehanna River Basin Compact have a selling job to do with the state legislatures of Pennsylvania, New York and Maryland and the United States Congress.

The Interstate Advisory Committee on the Susquehanna River Basin, made public last June 9 a detailed interstate-federal compact to develop and conserve the land and water resources of the 27,500-square-mile watershed.

The proposed compact, developed after 22 months of painstaking task force deliberations, is to be submitted to the state and federal lawmakers next year.

This gives the advisory committee at least six months to get its selling job done.

The committee has its headquarters in Harrisburg and William Voigt Jr., the task force secretary, and his staff have been briefing concerned Pennsylvania agencies on the details of the compact and how they would be affected.

Will Appear Next Month

Voigt also is to appear next month before a hearing of a Maryland legislative screening council headed by Sen. William S. James, president of the Maryland Senate. James was a Maryland representative on the advisory committee.

The situation in New York is fluid at the moment because the senate member, of the Empire State legislature, Sen. E. T. Barrett, died while the House member, Assemblyman George L. Ingalls, reportedly is retiring from active politics this year.

Voigt, an employee of the three state's involved in the basin, said he was prepared to meet with any officials in any of the states for further elaboration on the compact.

Thus far, reaction to the plan from the legislatures has been minimal, Voigt said, adding that this was to be expected, especially since this is an election year.

The one major reservation to be raised in Pennsylvania thus far came from Gov. Scranton, who, while endorsing the plan with enthusiasm, questioned the equal voting privileges proposed for each of the states.

"The state of Maryland has about 280 square miles in this basin," he commented at a recent press conference. "The state of New York has about 6,080. Pennsylvania has something over 21,000 square miles. So, in other words, it is 3 1/2 times the size of New York's interest and approximately 90 times Maryland interest."

"I would think it would be most unfortunate for Pennsylvania if there were a gang-up of Maryland, New York and the federal government on what the plans were to be implemented on this, to the disadvantage of our state."

Many Alternatives

Voigt, when queried on this point, explained that a number of alternatives were explored on the question of voting rights, including proposals to weight the vote according to geographical interest.

But, he added, it finally was decided to utilize the same voting system as contained in the Delaware River Basin Compact adopted in 1961.

That provides equal votes to the participating states — Pennsylvania, New York, Delaware and New Jersey — and the federal government.

Pennsylvania, Voigt added, also has an equal vote in the Interstate Committee on the Potomac River Basin, although the Commonwealth has only 5 per cent of basin within its borders.

The voting procedure also contains some safeguards for

Budgets, for example, would require a unanimous vote so any state which felt its stake in the Basin was being harmed automatically would hold a veto power here, Voigt explained.

In other matters, such as a proposed flood control project for a certain state, the affected state must vote in the affirmative for the project to be approved.

Voigt agreed with Scranton that in an effort so enormous as the compact, there are bound to be disagreements over specific provisions.

But the prospect did not appear to concern him too deeply. "We have six months to discuss this before it goes before

Country's Relief Rolls Are Cut, New York State Is Only Exception

By HAL COOPER
NEW YORK (AP) —Nation-wide prosperity and a firm attitude toward the lazy have cut relief rolls in most parts of America to a hard core of the unemployable needy, an Associated Press survey indicates. And many of the unemployables are being salvaged for the labor market by education and training programs which will aim to make them self-supporting.

During the past year the total on relief, including the jobless, the blind, dependent children and the aged, has leveled out or even declined, according to a sampling of states and cities from coast to coast.

A major exception is New York, where the number of jobs for the unskilled has tumbled to keep pace with an influx of Puerto Ricans and southern Negroes. California has a similar problem.

In Niagara Falls, N.Y., one unemployed relief recipient who turned down a job was sentenced recently to 30 days in jail under the state welfare law.

Few states go this far. But in some, jobless fathers who refuse work are cut off relief and face court charges of nonsupport of children. In many places, no able-bodied family head is admitted to relief rolls in the first place.

However, welfare officials reached by the survey said malnourishing was no great problem anywhere.

Ellis P. Murphy, director of the Los Angeles County Bureau of Public Assistance, said: "We find that most people want to work if we can find a job that they can do."

"Reluctance to go to work," said a spokesman for the Illinois Public Aid Department, "usually stems from a relief recipient's fear that the job he is offered is one he cannot do."

This is where the education and vocational training programs come in.

The Chicago Board of Education provides free schooling for undereducated adults. The County Welfare Department offers free training for would-be salesmen, machine operators, drivers, typists, food handlers, wood finishers and hotel workers.

The Cook County, Chicago, welfare case load hit a peak of 289,276 in May 1962, a month when aiding the indigent cost $17,226,000. In March this year, the case load was down to 254,295 and the outlay down to $15,879,712. In many instances a case included two or more members of a family.

In Pennsylvania, which has a number of state and county training programs for the jobless, the number of individuals on relief fell from 417,705 in March 1965 to 381,132 in March 1966. The outlay went up from $16,670,927 to $16,821,837.

California's state social welfare budget rose from $891 million for a case load of 979,500 in the 1964-65 fiscal year to just over a billion dollars for a case load of 1,063,000 in fiscal 1965-66. In an attempt to stem the increase, the state is stepping up programs of remedial education and vocational training, in which 1,000 persons already are enrolled.

Ohio welfare recipients at the end of May totaled 350,000 compared with 345,000 a year previous and 378,000 in 1961. This year's welfare program will cost $240 million compared with $230 million in 1965 and $195 million in 1961.

In 1963, the Ohio Legislature enacted a law requiring county welfare departments to discontinue relief payments to any able-bodied persons who refused job offers.

Indiana discourages chronic loafers by requiring unemployed but able-bodied family heads to obtain poor relief funds from the trustees of the townships where they live. Many township trustees require the applicants to take jobs on public works projects in order to qualify for grants.

The total number of welfare cases in Oregon, which supports a system of vocational schools and on-job training projects, declined to 33,914 in May compared with 34,648 the previous year and 38,545 in May 1961.

Missouri's State Welfare Division recently dispatched a team of special investigators to track down missing fathers and curb unjustified claims for aid to dependent children. The number of Missourians receiving public assistance fell from 157,293 in April 1965 to 154,149 this year. Rhode Island takes heads of families into court on nonsupport charges if they twice refuse to accept job offers. The number of persons on relief in the state this year is expected to increase by only about 1,000 from the peak of 39,985 in 1965.

Half a dozen major New Jersey cities have started training programs for unemployables. Essex County, N.J., is seeking federal funds for a legal aid program for deserted wives who want to lodge nonsupport actions against their husbands.

Texas requires the able-bodied mothers of dependent children to go to work in order to qualify for aid. Herbert Wilson, assistant commissioner of the State Department of Public Welfare, said there was little difficulty in enforcing this requirement, since the maximum aid payment to a mother of four is only $135 a month.

In Georgia, the number on relief in May was 187,83, down from 208,26 in May 1965. Phil Cawthon, deputy director of the State Family and Children Services Department, said:

"I'm sure that there are some, naturally, who try to get along on welfare, but I think it's a very small group. It's the nature of most American people to want to work if they can."

In New York City 591,749 persons were receiving some form of public aid in April compared with 537,682 in April, 1965. The City Welfare Department budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year is $663,607,986, an increase of $142,306,396 over 1965-6.

The number of Minnesotans receiving welfare help rose from 124,203 in April 1961 to 130,873 this year. The increase was more than accounted for by cases of aid to dependent children, which went up during the period from 36,725 to 53,140.

Camera on Moon Fails to Respond

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — America's camera on the moon, Surveyor 1, failed Tuesday night to respond to initial commands sent to reactivate it after the super-cold lunar night — two weeks at temperatures as low as 260 degrees below zero.

Said a spokesman at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which sent Council Chambers, City Hall.

Defeat Negroes In So. Carolina

By AL LANIER
COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — White voters apparently cast their ballots solidly along racial lines to defeat four Negro candidates who had been given a good chance to win Democratic nominations to the all-white South Carolina Legislature.

claimed a slight edge in voting registrations in the two central South Carolina counties. The four Negro candidates had led the legislative races in the June 14 primary which eliminated several white candidates. However, all the white voters apparently rallied behind the white candidates for the runoff.

Minister Bows

In Clarendon County, a Negro minister, the Rev. J.S. Hunter, lost his bid for nomination to the county's lone seat in the state House of Representatives. He said he would file a protest involving ballots cast in two precincts in Summerton.

Final tabulations gave the Rev. Mr. Hunter 3,665 votes to 3,878 votes for his white opponent, Joseph Coker.

In Williamsburg, where Negroes sought all three of the county's legislative seats, Kingstreet undertaker Virgil Dimery lost the Senate nomination to LaNue Floyd, who had 5,828 votes to Dimery's 4,041.

Incumbent state Rep. J. Henry Stuckey and Ernest W. Carter defeated Negro candidates J.E. Lawrence and Purvis Easley for the two House seats in Williamsburg County. Stuckey had 5,989 votes, Carter 5,949, Lawrence 4,179 and Easley 4,073.

A Negro, Virgin Johnson, also was defeated in a runoff race with two white candidates for two seats on the Hampton County Council.

Keep Close Watch

Federal observers kept close watch on the voting in Clarendon County. Hundreds of Negroes have been added to the county's voter list since federal registrars were sent in last November.

South Carolina's 1967 General Assembly thus will retain its all-white makeup maintained since 1901 when a Negro legislator served in the House.

Bank Head's Son Shooting Victim

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Gary Rushlow, 19, son of a local bank president, was killed Tuesday night in a shooting accident 15 miles south of this northern New York city.

Rushlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brainard C. Rushlow, was walking along a rural road near Chaumont when a companion fired a 22-caliber rifle at a rabbit, sheriff's deputies said.

The bullet hit Rushlow in the head.

Defeat FDR Jr. Backers

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — An independent slate of candidates to the Democratic state convention, pledged to gubernatorial candidate Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., was defeated in Tuesday's Primary.

The slate of 11 was beaten by the organization slate of 12 in Erie County's 146th Assembly District. The organization slate was uncommitted.

Roosevelt is one of four announced candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor. The nominee will be chosen at the party's convention here Sept. 7-8.

FHLB Authorizes Savings and Loan Interest at 5 PC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Home Loan Bank Board Tuesday authorized savings and loan associations throughout the country to pay up to 5 per cent interest on some types of time deposits.

The action followed by one day a move by the Federal Reserve Board to ease the interest rate war between commercial banks and savings and loan associations by placing moderate restrictions on certificates of deposit issued by banks.

But Chairman John E. Horne of the Home Loan Bank Board said this "minimal action" by the Federal Reserve was a determining factor in his agency's move.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee and officials of the U.S. Savings and Loan League also had criticized the Reserve Board action as inadequate.

Horne said his board acted following a two-day meeting with the presidents of the 12 Home Loan banks.

Beginning July 1, the board said, savings and loan associations will be permitted to issue six-month savings certificates in minimum denomination of $1,000 at an annual dividend of 5 per cent without any loss in their right to borrow from the Home Loan Bank system.

New Difficulties In New York Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — New difficulties have developed in negotiations between the World Journal Tribune Inc. and the pressmen's union.

Pressman negotiators, returning to the bargaining table for the first time since June 7 when talks became deadlocked, presented 22 additional proposals to officials of the new publishing corporation Tuesday.

Matt Meyer, president of the corporation, said of the new proposals: "We cannot live with them."

The union bargaining team was joined for the first time by William J. Kennedy, who took office as president of Pressmen's Local No. 2 last Sunday. Kennedy did not make the new proposals public.

Chief mediator David L. Cole said the pressmen placed "a large number of proposals on the table which go beyond their previous position."

After a 3½-hour meeting, Cole recessed the pressman talks until today.

Negotiations involving the mailers union — the only other union among the 10 in the newspaper industry that has not reached at least a tentative contract agreement with the corporation — were recessed at 2 a.m. today.

Both sides in the mailer-publisher talks reported "little progress."

The World Journal Tribune, which has been prevented for 66 days from starting to publish the three new papers it plans, reached tentative agreements early Tuesday with the Newspaper Guild of New York, the only union on strike, and the drivers union. The agreements are subject to ratification by union members.

Testimonial Held For George Yerry

Ulster, Sullivan, Delaware and Greene Counties Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO held a testimonial dinner recently at Governor Clinton Hotel, on its regular meeting date to honor its past president George E. Yerry Jr.

Yerry resigned to accept an appointment by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller as a commissioner on the Workmen's Compensation Board. Commissioner Yerry was presented with a lifetime Gold Membership Card by the newly elected President Julius Lamanec.

Delegates from the various construction trades unions throughout the four counties were in attendance to express their regrets at losing a leader with Commissioner Yerry's talents from the active labor field and congratulate him on his new field of endeavor.

Will Measure Quakes

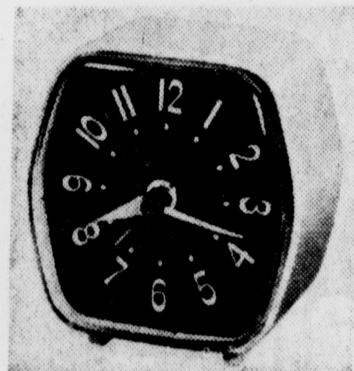

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP) — A laser beam, aimed from one mountain to another, may provide a way to measure tiny earthquakes.

Scientists at North American Aviation report preliminary success in an experiment in the San Bernardino Mountains. They said the device was able to measure movements as small as a fifth of an inch.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Auction Promises Fun for Weekend

Plans for the coming auction to be held under sponsorship of Emmanuel Chapter 517, Order of the Eastern Star, Saugerties, are progressing very well. The auction is scheduled Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m., at the Masonic Temple, Russell Street. The event will continue until all items are sold.

Those wishing to donate articles of furniture, bric-a-brac, lamps, mirrors, post cards, china, glass, jewelry, etc., are asked to call Mrs. Ernest A. Schirmer, of West Saugerties, or Mrs. Charles Maxfield. Arrangements may be made through them to pick up items contributed.

The big auction is being held to help raise money for the new Masonic Temple. Barkley Van Tassel will be in charge of refreshments for the day, and the public is invited to attend, browse, have lunch, enjoy the auction and view the new Temple.

Hank Sagazie will be an hand as auctioneer for the day and antique dealers are especially welcome. Everyone is invited to make the auction a part of the annual July 4 weekend celebration.

ATTENDING CONVENTION — John P. Wanchik (right) and Harold E. Van Etten (left), both of Saugerties, were among delegates and guests attending the 28th annual convention of the Communications Workers of America in St. Louis. The local residents were among three delegates from this area attending the Missouri convention, and helped map major CWA policy decisions on Political, economic and social issues that will guide the 330,000-member union during the coming year. Wanchik and Van Etten, secretary and president respectively of CWA Local 1120 in the Mid-Hudson Valley, attended the full schedule of convention business sessions, from June 20 to June 24. They heard CWA International President Joseph A. Beirne deliver the keynote address and urge them to help in the building program, aimed at doubling membership in the union by 1970.

List Library Hours

Saugerties Public Library has announced library hours for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Hours during which the library will be open are as follows:

Monday through Saturday, 1 to 5 p. m.; Wednesday and Friday, 7 to 9 p. m. The library will also be open for two hours each Saturday morning from 10 a. m. to 12 noon.

West Camp Schedule

Sunday worship services at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp, will go on summer schedule this week at 10 a. m.

Sunday school is in summer recess until after Labor Day. Regular worship services will resume at 11 a. m. in September.

Thruway Mishap

Tong Liu, of Staten Island, was injured at about 4 p. m. Tuesday when the car in which he was riding went out of control and overturned on the State Thruway near mile post 85, south of Kingston. Two others were in the car at the time but apparently escaped serious injury. Liu was taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum's ambulance. He was treated for head injuries and admitted for further treatment. No further details of the accident were available early this afternoon.

Report Car Theft, Disorderly Charge In Rosendale Area

Peace Justice Daniel McMonagle, Town of Rosendale, adjourned Tuesday to July 5 a hearing for a 16-year-old youth arrested on a disorderly conduct charge.

Ronald H. Lunan, 16, of 25 Prospect Street, New Paltz, was ordered committed to Ulster County Jail without bail.

Chief Constable Harold Bowers of the Rosendale Constabulary, said that the youth was found on the roof of the Bridge View Inn, trying to peer inside the structure. The property is owned by Eugene Brandenburg.

Chief Constable Bowers investigated and made the arrest along with Trooper Robert Malloy of the Lake Katrine substation of State Police.

In another case the same day, Town of Rosendale police recovered a car within about three hours from the time it was reported stolen Tuesday morning.

Chief Constable Bowers said that Herbert S. Bolde of 95 Main Street, Rosendale, reported his 1964 model station wagon stolen about 9:45 a. m. Tuesday. Chief Constable Bowers recovered the car about 12:45 p. m. the same day in the rear of the Chalet in Rosendale.

Lutheran Church Notes Changed Hour of Service

Atonement Lutheran Church, 100 Market Street, Saugerties, will hold one service during July and August and through Labor Day, a family service at 9 a. m. Nursery care will be provided at the parish house. Children of the Sunday School five years and over are to attend service with parents. The 8 a. m. and 11 a. m. services will be resumed the second Sunday in September. Sunday school will open fully for its fall and winter program on this date.

Last Sunday the Rev. Walter Cowen, pastor of Atonement Lutheran Church, observed the 35th anniversary of his ordination to the ministry of the church. At the Sunday service he reviewed some of the amusing and inspiring highlights of his ministry. The Church Council has granted the pastor a six-week vacation in observance of his anniversary. The Rev. Hugh Whitaker, a son of Atonement and association pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Oswego, will occupy the pulpit during August and take care of emergency needs.

July 24 the pulpit will be occupied by the Rev. Edward Havari, pastor of All Saints Lutheran Church, Jamaica, L. I., and July 31 the Rev. Paul Alberti, of White Plains, former missionary to Malaysia, will preach.

Letter of transfer was issued to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rescott, formerly of Peach Lane, Saugerties, and their children Richard, Brian, Deborah and David to the Resurrection Lutheran Church, Cocoa Beach, Fla. Their present address is 1315 Anchor Lane, Merritt Island, Florida 32952.

The sacristy of the church is being redecorated, the ceiling painted and vinyl plastic simulated wood applied to the walls. Walls will be adorned with a copy of Luther's Sacristy Prayer, Durer Praying Hands, a cloth drape with the prayer of St. Francis Assisi, a brass crucifix on a wood panel base and the floor carpeted. A brass knocker given by the Confirmation Class of 1966 will be placed on the door.

Memorial contributions given in memory of the late Louise Anders, wife of Harry Anders of Barclay Street, to Atonement Lutheran Church have been received in excess of $300. Funds thus received are allocated to a memorial fund and used at the discretion of the council for items that are not generally included in the regular budget.

Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson, of Fairport, and children Lawrence, Alice and Tracey, will be guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Cowen, Market Street, Saugerties, July 1 and 2. She is the former Patricia Cowen, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Cowen.

Property Committee of the church met Wednesday to plan for the renovation of the church kitchen. Plans to install a new flooring over a plywood base, rearrange cabinet space and replace some items will be presented to the Church Council for approval at its next meeting Tuesday, July 12, for consideration.

Lodge Celebrates 60th Anniversary

Celebrating its 60th anniversary recently was Queen Rebekah Lodge 34 which observed the occasion at its regular meeting June 21. Members from Kingston, Olive Bridge, Bearsville and West Saugerties were present to help celebrate the event.

Mildred Gippert read an interesting history of the Lodge for the past 60 years.

Noble Grand, Anna Minkler was honored by Gr. 1 Master James M. Main, of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, with the Certificate for Meritorious Service, and the Meritorious Service mblem which she is entitled to wear. This presentation was made by Mary Kamps.

A welcome ceremony was conducted for two new members, Sarah Mack and Mary Landcastle.

A luncheon will be served July 16 by the Rebekah's at the Odd Fellow's Temple on Main Street to a Pilgrimage bus load of 42 Junior Odd Fellows and Rebekah's.

Also planned is a picnic for Odd Fellow's and Rebekah's and their families on Aug. 7 at Dorothy Maxfield's home. Members are requested to bring a covered dish and place setting.

After the meeting, all adjourned to the dining room where a lighted anniversary cake, donated by Dorothy Maxfield and other refreshments were served by Mary Kamps and her committee.

There will be no further meetings during the summer vacation period and Lodge will reopen Sept. 6.

PLANT OFFICIALLY OPENED—Area businessmen were on hand Tuesday to acknowledge formally the occupancy of the Port Ewen Products Company plants in Port Ewen and to announce the installation of the company's major medical program. Better known as PEPCO, the firm was founded February 16 of this year and presently totals 50 persons in its employ. PEPCO is a contract manufacturing firm involving general machining, sheet metal and stamped parts, supported by a modern painting facility. Its two plants are located on Route 9W. At the ceremony are (l-r), Peter O. Allen, executive vice president, Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce; Lawrence A. Quilty, insurance executive; George Svirsky, president, Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce; Irving Eyles, executive vice president of PEPCO; Joseph F. Brown, president, Town of Esopus Industrial Development Corp.; Albert D. Pace, vice president of PEPCO; Zale Lise, president of Port Ewen Businessman's Association; D. W. Robertson, vice president, Kingston Trust Company and Ernest LeFevre, president of the Kingston Trust Company. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Four Are Injured In City Mishaps

Four persons were injured in three city traffic mishaps, two Tuesday, and one early today, and two drivers were cited for violations.

Kenneth S. Heppner, 19, of 270 Flatbush Avenue, driver of one of two cars in collision at 5:20 a. m. today at Albany and Foxhall Avenues, reported a neck injury. Michael O'Brien, 18, of Oakwood Drive, Town of Ulster, also suffered a neck injury and both were treated at Kingston Hospital.

Police said the other car was driven by Robert J. Roucci, 18, of Glasco.

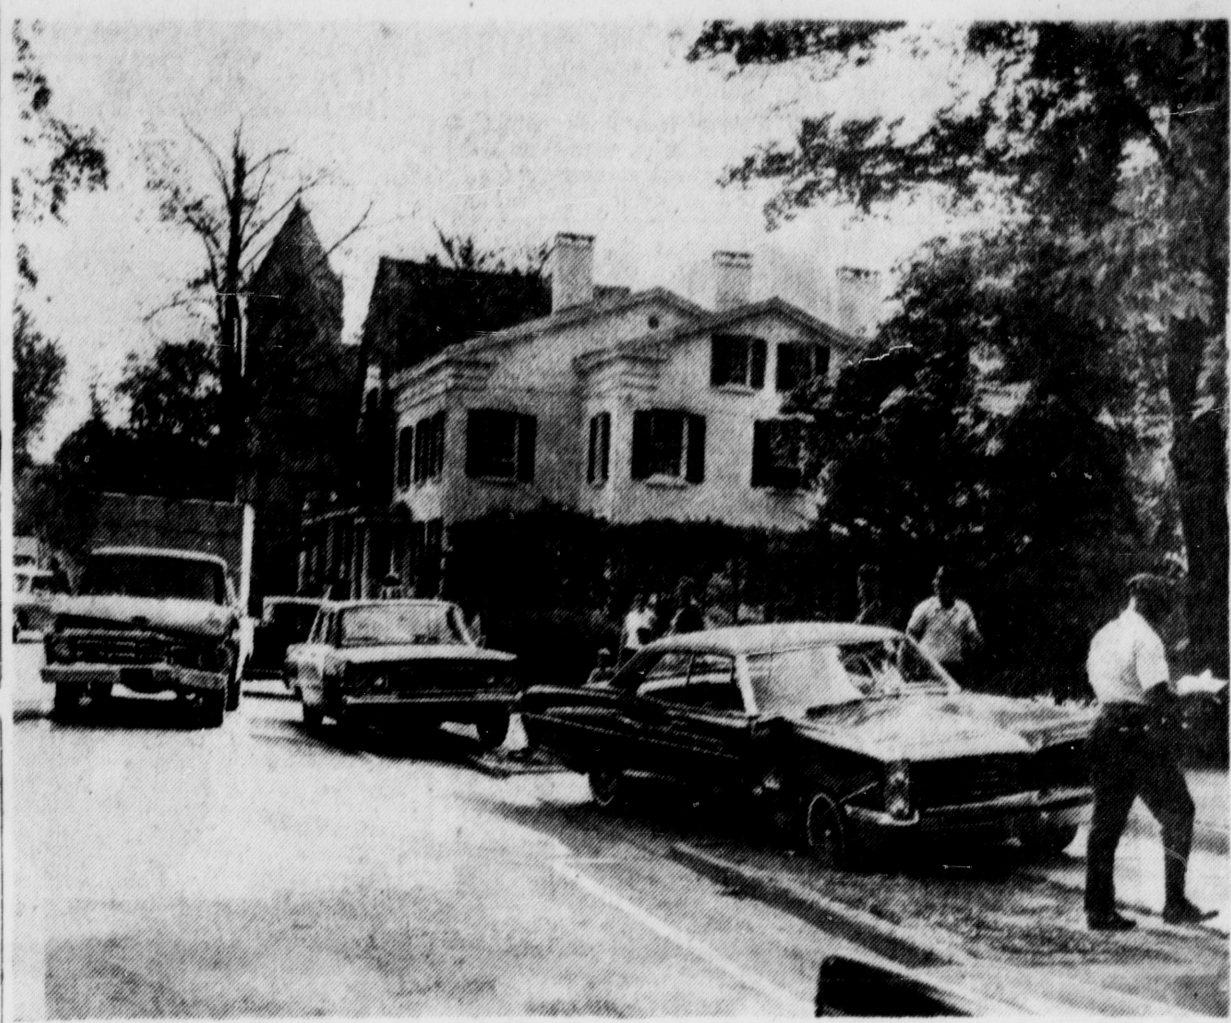

Wayne Vankleek, 18, of Box 215, Route 28, driver of one car in a three-vehicle mishap at Broadway and Mill Street at 4:20 p. m. Tuesday, was charged with driving with inadequate brakes.

A truck involved was driven by Robert Bailey, 41, of 138 Delaware Avenue, and the other car was driven by Samuel Pearson, of Box 606, Woodridge.

Robert Bailey reported chest and head injuries, and Allen Bailey, 8, suffered a head injury. They were treated at Kingston Hospital. Officer Kenneth Radel investigated.

Donna Nilan, of Port Ewen, was charged with failure to keep right, police said, after the car she drove struck the parked car of Edward Jones, of 22 Boulevard, Tuesday at 2 p. m. on the Boulevard near Greenkill Avenue. Officers Joseph Feraca and Stanley Koplik investigated.

Vankleek is due in City Court July 2 and Donna Nilan was fined $10 today.

CAR-TRUCK MISHAP—A truck owned by Mosher's Delivery Service, Tremper Avenue, and driven by David Smith Jr., 28, of Box 10 Mt. Marion Road, and a car (right) operated by Robert J. McConekey, 25, of 15 Finger Street,

Saugerties, collided on Pearl Street near Clinton Avenue at about 5:30 p. m. Tuesday. No injuries were reported. Officers Curtis VanDemark and Duncan Greene investigated. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Arms Display Set At Camp Bruckner

WEST POINT—Local area residents are invited to attend a display of the Army combined arms team at Camp Bruckner, Range 6, on Wednesday, July 6, at 1 p. m. the U.S. Military Academy announced here today.

Visitors will witness an exhibition of U.S. Army proficiency involving Army firepower, communications and mobility. On display will be a rifle platoon with those elements normally organic to or in support of a rifle battalion which enable the platoon to move, shoot and communicate effectively on the modern battlefield. Included will be a demonstration of the firepower and fire support, communications, and mobility of the modern Army's combat units.

Public Invited
The public has been invited to witness the demonstration in order to become familiar with the training mission of summer troops temporarily assigned to West Point. The demonstration will be presented on July 7 for cadets only.

Those interested in observing the demonstration should arrive by automobile, via Route 293, no later than 12:30 p. m. Signs directing visitors to parking areas will be placed along the highway. Shuttle buses will be available for transportation from parking areas to the demonstration site. Military police will be present to assist motorists. The demonstration will be held as scheduled regardless of weather conditions.

Release Codarre

that if the majority felt Codarre's change of plea illegal, they should have sent the case back to the Federal Court for a new hearing.

The accused slayer's appeal was based on the ground that his rights were not protected when he was allowed to change his plea from innocent to guilty.

Judge Clarie noted in his dissent that "a child under 15 has no criminal responsibility" under an amendment to the State Juvenile Delinquency Act of 1948-49.

Codarre's mother, Mrs. Irene Bishop stood by her son from the time he was first accused until today, and she used every possible legal way of trying to clear her son, who has been the victim of epilepsy since a child.

Writ Denied in 1962
A long trail of appeals prompted by Mrs. Bishop led to yesterday's decision in the U. S. Court of Appeals. A Dutchess County judge in 1962 denied a writ of error. At that hearing Mrs. Bishop got her first look at her son as an adult in civilian clothes.

Since the appeals were begun several years ago, the State Court of Appeals, the Appellate Division and the U. S. Supreme Court have said "no" to Codarre as he tried to get his freedom.

Authorities at Green Haven Prison at Stormville, where Codarre is being held, said late Tuesday he had received no official word of the Tuesday decision.

Discovered in Ditch

State Police and former District Attorney John R. Schwartz and the late Thomas A. Lavery, an assistant prosecutor, investigated the murder of the Voigt girl. Her body was discovered in a ditch alongside a county road not far from her East Fishkill home where she had been playing with her doll and toys a short while before she disappeared.

Codarre at the time had been staying at a summer camp not far from the Voigt farm, which was located just off the Taconic Parkway.

Postpone Wedding

WASHINGTON (AP)—The wedding of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's son to a Minnesota girl has been postponed, it was announced today.

A statement issued by the vice president's office quoted Mrs. Raymond Erickson of Hampton, Minn., as saying: "I regret that the illness of my daughter Donna makes it necessary for us to postpone the marriage to Robert Humphrey, son of the vice president."

Donna, 21, suffering from pneumonia, was hospitalized last Friday in Cannon Falls, Minn., and transferred to St. Barnabas Hospital in Minneapolis Monday night.

Bob, 22, and Donna had planned to marry July 9.

Man Shoots Wife, Then Kills Self

LANCASTER, N.Y. (AP) — A retired automobile plant worker who drove this Buffalo suburb's ambulance shot his wife to death

Tuesday as she lay in bed and then killed himself, police say. They said Roman Piotrowski, 60, fired two bullets into the head of his wife, Helen, 67. He then shot himself twice in the chest, they said, went to the cellar of their home and shot himself in the head. Investigators said they found a .22 caliber pistol beside his body. No motive had been established for the deaths, which the Erie County medical examiner's office ruled murder and suicide.

The couple lived at 84 Woodlawn Ave. The pea is believed to have originated from wild plants of southern Europe and southwestern Asia.

Upstater FacesMurder 2nd Charge

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A 29-year-old man faced arraignment today on charges of second-degree murder and unlawful possession of a revolver after his indictment Tuesday by a grand jury. The man, Willie J. Wilson of Rochester, is accused by police in the shooting of Saul Epps Jr., 25, also of Rochester at a tavern

June 11. Wilson was arrested the next day. Wilson's address is 95 Hanover St. Epps lived at 24 Buchanan Park. Some pecan trees produce 400 to 500 pounds of nuts each year.

Buffalo Pastor Heads Lutherans

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Rev. Herman R. Frincke of the Buffalo, N. Y., suburb of Williamsville is the new president of the Eastern District of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod.

The Rev. Mr. Frincke, formerly executive director of the district, was elected Tuesday as the group's first full-time president.

About 200 delegates, meeting at the University of Pennsylvania, previously had decided that the presidency would no longer be a part-time job and that future presidents must sever their ties with the congregations.

Mr. Frincke, who was born in Royal Oak, Mich., is the fourth generation of his family to serve as a clergyman in the Missouri Synod.

He served as institutional chaplaincy and a pastorate in Rochester, N. Y., from 1937 to 1963, when he became executive director.

The decision that future presidents must sever their ties with their flock was prompted by a Buffalo pastor and his congregation.

The Rev. Gustav M. Karkau and representatives of his congregation, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, said earlier this week they did not believe any president could serve his church and the entire district at the same time.

The Synod, with 2.8 million members, is the second largest of the three major Lutheran groups in the nation. The 79th biennial convention is to last through Thursday.

Mrs. William Taft was a musician and a founder of the Cincinnati orchestra.

LOAN INSTITUTE DINNER—More than four dozen diplomas and certificates were presented at annual awards dinner of Capital District Chapter 131, American Savings and Loan Institute, held Saturday night at Skytop Motel. On hand for dinner and presentations were (l-r) seated, Samuel D. Bradley, of First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Kingston, chapter first vice president; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Austin V. Carey, pastor, St. John's Church, Stony Hollow, who gave the invocation; and Francis G. De Rosa, of Gloversville Federal Savings and Loan

Assn, chapter secretary; and, standing, Neil A. O'Brien, governor of District II, A.S.L.I., who installed new officers and presented awards; John C. Wessels, of Gloversville Federal Savings and Loan Association, outgoing chapter president; Henry J. Jordan, Savings & Loan Association of Kingston, incoming president; and William F. Paulus, First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Kingston, deputy governor. Approximately 75 chapter members and guests attended. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Story of Olana Bill Dates Back To Yale Thesis

Present at Monday's signing of the "Olana" bill, which enables the State Education Department to complement private funds for the purchase of the Frederick E. Church estate in Columbia County were nine Ulster County residents, in addition to Senator Lloyd Newcombe and Miss Mary Lou Bardolotta, who represented Congressman

Joseph Y. Resnick.

From Ulster County were Mrs. George R. Numrich, Mrs. Herbert E. Gade, Mrs. Frank Matthews, Mrs. George Hutton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Sturges, Mrs. Joseph Greenberg, Mrs. Clarence Hansen and Mrs. Robert S. Diamond.

Signing of the bill by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took place noontime on the Olana estate, located three miles south of Hudson on Route 9. The bill authorizes conveyance of part of the property of the famous American painter for use as a community college for Columbia and Greene Counties.

Instrumental in initiating action on the Olana bill was David C. Huntington, who as an art student at Yale University wrote a thesis on Olana and its owner, Church, the Hudson River landscape artist who reached a pinnacle of fame in the mid-nineteenth century.

A century later Church's name had become obscure and his family announced that Olana, his mansion, was facing a wrecker's ball. Huntington, now a professor of art at Smith College at Northampton, Mass., was determined to save Olana. He succeeded in mustering the aid of Alexander Aldrich, a descendant of the prominent Rhode Island family, Congressional candidate in Tuesday's Republican primaries, and a first cousin to Governor Nelson Rockefeller.

Together they formed Olana Preservation, Inc. August Hecksher, president of Twentieth Century Fund, rallied to help and enlisted the aid of Senator Robert F. Kennedy. Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, a prominent art patron, held a benefit for Olana in New York City. Knoedler Galleries is holding an exhibition of Church's landscapes for the benefit of Olana organized by the Smithsonian Institute.

Life Magazine carried a 15-page account on Olana (May 13 issue). Professor Huntington timed the publication of his book, "The Landscapes of Frederick Edwin Church with the campaign to save Olana and donated all profits to the cause. State Senator Lloyd A. Newcombe and Assemblyman Clarence Lane drafted a bill to enable the State Education Department to take Olana into custody as an art museum.

When the Republican-sponsored bill emerged from committee, Democrats swamped the legislature with telegrams and Majority Leader Anthony J. Travia steered the bill to sure passage. Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick in Washington read the Life Magazine articles into the Congressional Record. All that remained to make the bill into law was the Governor's signature.

On the porch Monday at Olana, Professor Huntington, Aldrich, Newcombe and Lane were ready when a helicopter bearing Governor Rockefeller dropped out of the sky at 12:30 p. m. Professor Huntington met Governor Rockefeller for the first time. With the weather warm, candidate Aldrich led the proceedings at a gallop. After a few words from Huntington, Newcombe, and Lane the Governor was handed the bill, and with a few strokes of a quill pen, affixed his signature. He darted through the crowd, shaking hands here and there, with nuns, boy scouts, two small Korean girls and other wellwishers.

Will Establish Research Centers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The North Country Economic and Cultural Council of New York State is the recipient of a $100,000 federal grant to establish two research centers.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy announced the grant from the Office of Economic Development Tuesday. New York's Democratic senator tied the funds to a fact-finding tour he made of the North Country earlier this year.

Kennedy said he had suggested the formation of task force to plan economic development of the area to Dr. George W. Angell, president of the State University College at Plattsburgh, who enlisted the aid of Dr. Foster Brown of St. Lawrence University.

The federal funds will establish centers for research at the two colleges. Counties in the North Country Council are Lewis, St. Lawrence, Jefferson, Franklin, Clinton, Essex, Hamilton, Washington and Warren.

William S. Gaud New Foreign Aid Head Described As Hard Worker

WASHINGTON (AP)—William S. Gaud, nominated by President Johnson to head the nation's massive foreign aid program, works 11-hour days and brings home reading at night. He also skips a 32-foot sailboat named Content.

"I spend all the weekends I can on her," Gaud said in an interview.

Getting Shorter

Gaud's weekends may start getting shorter after July 31, the day he is scheduled to replace David E. Bell as administrator of the Agency for International Development.

President Johnson announced Bell's resignation Tuesday and coupled it with the nomination of Gaud, who has been deputy administrator of AID since 1964.

Bell is to become vice president of the Ford Foundation in charge of international activities. He said he was resigning for personal reasons and not because of any dispute with the administration. "I am bushed and I am broke, but I am not mad at anyone," he told a newsman. He said he was delighted with the appointment of Gaud as his successor.

Gaud, 58, an affable Yale graduate who joined the agency as assistant administrator in 1961, said he plans no policy changes.

Same Policies

"I'll follow the same policies," Gaud said. "We're on the right track."

The nominee outlined his philosophy about the $2.5 billion foreign aid program this way: "We live in a world that's changing fast; that's going to continue to change. It's to our advantage to do what we can to see that the world moves in the direction we want to see it move and that we end up in a world of freedom and opportunity and independent nations."

"It's a period of rising expectations on the part of developing countries and a period of increased obligations on the part of developed countries. Both for reasons of self-interest and idealism, we should do what we can to help developing nations improve their lot."

Nothing New

Working with underdeveloped countries will be nothing new for Gaud. His first aid job was handling assistance for the Middle East and South Asia.

While in the Army during World War II, he was responsible for military assistance to China, India and Burma. Gaud emerged from the Army in 1945 as a colonel and with the Legion of Merit and the Order of the British Empire.

He worked briefly for the War Department after his discharge and in 1946 went into private law practice in New York City. A native of New York, Gaud had joined the corporation counsel's office there after graduating from Yale Law School in 1932.

He has been considered a workhorse in the operating end of the AID program since becoming deputy administrator.

Gaud said he would like to see Congress approve long-range programs, instead of providing aid on a year-to-year basis.

Besides sailing, the slim, brown-haired Gaud enjoys tennis. He and his wife, Eleanor, have one daughter, Anne, who will be a senior next year at Vassar College.

Gaud will earn $30,000 yearly as administrator of AID.

Says U. S. Will Act on Pollution If State Drags

"The federal government will not stand by and watch while state and local air pollution control programs stagnate," Rep. Resnick, D. N. Y. 28th District, said today.

The congressman appeared at hearings on air pollution conducted Thursday afternoon in Poughkeepsie by the State Air Pollution Control Board. He emphasized in his prepared statement that "local and state officials have a responsibility to act to prevent the use of the environment as an aerial sewer."

and said that he would prefer that air pollution be handled on the local level.

"However," Resnick said, "I will not sit by while the state twiddles its thumbs. In the absence of prompt action on the part of state and local officials to cope with the problem, federal standards may become necessary."

The congressman recently conducted public hearings in Kingston at which area housewives, businessmen, and physicians testified on the effects of cement and aggregate dust produced by mills in the area. As for the

'Owl and Pussycat' Opens in Woodstock; Adult Comedy Leaves Audience Howling

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

A raucous adult comedy left a first nighter audience limp with laughter at the Woodstock Playhouse yesterday. The play was Bill Manhoff's smash hit THE OWL AND THE PUSSYCAT and it featured the extremely talented William B. Ade as the Owl (Felix Sherman) and Judith Doty as the Pussycat (Doris W.).

The author takes a ridiculous situation and transforms it into an evening of hilarity. The dialogue gets very earthy in some spots it digs way below the surface but the highly professional performances given by Ade and Doty make it a memorable evening.

As Felix Sherman, Ade portrays an intellectual type writer whose life of loneliness and solitude is literally shattered by the arrival of Doris, a feline on the bottom rung of the I.Q. ladder. A woman of ill repute, she believes the world is filled with "finks." She unhinges the scholarly Owl who has lived most of his 30 years as a logical man with the value of the mind as his steadfast religion.

If memory serves correctly, Ade is the talented star who appeared in a Woodstock production of A FUNNY THING HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO THE FORUM. His performance in that comedy took us back a second time. Ade has appeared also in THE ZOO STORY and WHO'S AFRAID OF VIRGINIA WOOLF. A graduate of the Neighborhood Playhouse, he has worked at the Actor's Studio and has been seen in numerous television shows. Off-Broadway he performed in MR. ROBERTS as Ensign Pulver and starred with Burt Wheeler and Glenda Farrell in THE GIFT HORSE. He has appeared with Hans Conreid in TAKE HER SHE'S MINE and with Zero Mostel in RHINOCEROS. His extensive summer stock performances at the Kiamasha Playhouse include BELL, BOOK AND CANDLE, BUS STOP AND THE DAIRY OF ANNE FRANK.

The equally talented Judith Doty is primarily interested in Repertory Theatre. She spent one season with the well known Shakespearean Festival Company in Stratford, Ontario and two seasons with the Seattle Repertory Theatre performing in such roles as Ophelia in HAMLET and Cordelia in KING LEAR. She has performed also at the Arena Stage in Washington, D. C. and her performance as Irina in THREE SISTERS is well remembered. In addition, Miss Doty has had her own summer stock company, The Port Townsend Festival Theatre in Washington.

We take our hat off to Bernard Hiatt, director of this play. This is Mr. Hiatt's first season at the Woodstock Playhouse. He received his MFA in Theatre Arts at Boston University and studied directing at the Comedie Francaise in Paris, France. He taught both acting and directing at The Neighborhood Playhouse in New York for four years. New Yorkers are familiar with last season's Equity Theatre Production of COME BACK LITTLE SHEBA, which he directed. Mr. Hiatt has acting credits as well. He was featured in the National Touring Company of the Broadway play, A MAN FOR ALL SEASONS.

THE OWL AND THE PUSSYCAT will be on stage at the Woodstock Playhouse through July 4th.

By ELIZABETH L. POST

DO YOU KNOW THE RIGHT THING WHEN YOU FLY FLAG ON FOURTH?

This is the week to remind readers of the way to display and treat our country's flag. Test your knowledge today and abide by tomorrow's answers when you display your flag on Monday, July 4. Can you pick the one incorrect answer to each of the following questions?

1. When is the flag displayed?

(a) The flag may be flown every day in the year between sunrise and sunset.

(b) The flag may be displayed at night as part of a patriotic decoration or demonstration.

(c) The flag is flown every day from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m.

2. In what situations is it wrong to use the flag?

(a) It is wrong to use a flag as part of a costume.

(b) It is wrong to display a flag in a church.

(c) It is wrong to use the flag as a tablecloth, as, for instance, at a speaker's table.

3. How is our flag placed when it is displayed with other flags?

(a) When carried in a row of flags in a parade, the American flag is on the marcher's left.

(b) When flown with another flag, from crossed staffs, the flag of the United States should be on the left from the viewpoint of a person facing them.

(c) When raising a flag to half staff it is hoisted to the peak first and then lowered to the half-mast position.

(b) The flag should be raised very slowly and lowered briskly.

(c) When a flag is being lowered it should be caught before it touches the ground.

The clothes of the bride's and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the booklet, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception." To get a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman.

Present Charter

At Honor Court

Boy Scout Troop 19, sponsored by Joyce-Shirley VFW Post No. 1386 held a Court of Honor and charter presentation last week at the VFW Hall, Delaware Avenue.

The Scout charter was presented by Lou Gerbon, Neighborhood Commander, and accepted by Clayton Bruck, Post commander. Bruck spoke on behalf of the Post, thanking Scouts for all their invaluable help in the past. During the meeting, incoming Commander Gene Winter was presented to the assembly.

It was reported that the Troop Mothers Club had raised enough money through a rummage sale and other events to send each Scout in Troop 19 to Camp Tri-Mount, East Jewett, for one week.

Other highlights were the introduction of John Marks Sr., new institutional representative, and the presentation of the Tenderfoot Badge to Gregory Harris and a miniature pin to his mother by Scoutmaster James Zablosky.

Others receiving awards were: Louis Buzzanco, Leo Smith, Richard Raliff and Norman Buzzanco — second class badges, presented by assistant Scoutmaster John Quick, who also awarded their mothers miniature pins; John Marks and Leo Smith — Perfect Attendance Pin; Leo Smith, Richard Raliff, Gregory Harris and Glen Dixon — one year service pin; Norman Buzzanco — two year pin; Burt Bodie and Louis Buzzanco — three year pin; John Brazee, Carl Bodie and Paris Beverly — four year pin; and John Marks — six year pin.

Guest speaker at last week's Court of Honor was Ed Muller, of the Special Forces Reserve. He spoke on the subject of Scouting, and its meaning to Boy Scouts and their parents.

Plans for expanding the troop in the near future were detailed by Andrew R. McDermott, committee chairman.

3 Brothers Egg Farm Wins, 14-1

The Dodgers got all the extra base hits but the Three Brothers Egg Farm took advantage of all the breaks and came out on top in the Esopus Legion Little League, 14-1.

Frank Carey and Keith Rathjen slammed doubles for the losers. Harry Brink was the star for the Eggmen, pitching a two-hitter and getting a pair of singles himself. Kevin Johnson was charged with the loss even though he gave up only five hits.

Yonkers, Schwaben Are New In 1966-67 League Division

Yonkers and Schwaben will be new teams in the League Division of the German-American Football Association, in line with realignment of franchises for the 1966-67 season.

They will replace the League Division champion Shamrocks and second place College Point teams that moved up to the Premier Division.

Meanwhile, Hellenic and Brooklyn, the only two finishers in the Premier Division replace Minerva/Pfaffelzer and BW Gottschee in the Major Division.

Under G-A rules, the two last place teams in the Major and the first two in the Premier exchange places. The one-two League Division squads move to the Premier and the last two Premier teams joined the League group.

Champions for the 1965-66 season were: Major Division - New York Ukrainians; Premier Division - Hellenic; League Division - Shamrocks.

Shamrock Won 19

The Shamrock squad won 19 games, lost 2 and tied one to capture league honors by a five-point margin over runnerup College Point. Kingston Sport Club, with 11 wins, 7 losses and 4 ties, finished in fifth place with 26 points. The locals were undefeated at Oehler's Field.

Hell Drivers Due At Oteora Track

Oteora Speedway will stage its regular Friday night stock car show this week and follow it with a Sunday doubleheader featuring Sportsman racing with an appearance by the famed Lucky Hell Drivers.

The Friday action starts at 8:30 p. m. The Lucky Hell Drivers start the Sunday show at 8 p. m., followed by the Sportsman events. The Sportsman stocks will be competing for the spring championship and Oilzum Motor Oil trophy.

Featured with the Hell Drivers will be noted names as Denny Dearborn, Bobby Connors, Lucky Martin, Miss Billie Mack, Hank Thompson and Dick Cobb. "Happy" the cowardly thrill show clown will swap verbal insults and jokes with Buddy Wagner, the peer of thrill show announcers.

Several Specialties
Some of the Hell Drivers specialties include the rollover, ramp to ramp precision driving, the dangerous slide for life, the dive bomber crash and the deliberate destruction of a regular passenger car in a head-on collision.

Will Cagle captured last week's Sportsman 25-lap feature, with Stretch Van Steenburgh and Jerry Townley trailing. Harold Woods won the Limited event. Leo Duncan was declared winner in the Midget feature which was halted in the 17th lap because of a pileup in which Don Krietz of Sinking Springs, Pa., was seriously injured.

Santana and Drysdale Gain At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Manuel Santana, Spain's darling of the Wimbledon tennis aficionados, and the handsome South African Cliff Drysdale reached the semifinals of the Wimbledon mens singles Tuesday and braced themselves to break the 11-year hold Americans and Australians have had on the world's premier tennis title.

Santana, the reigning U. S. champion and seeded fourth here, used his racket like a flashing matador's sword to defeat Ken Fletcher, the happy go lucky Australian in a 6-2, 3-6, 8-6, 4-6, 7-5 thriller that turned out the best singles played here this year.

Drysdale, seeded seventh and a losing semifinalist last year, was the surprise 9-7, 6-2, 6-2 winner over Tony Roche, the left-handed Australian who had won the French and Italian titles earlier this year.

In the semifinals Wednesday, Santana plays Owen Davidson, the unseeded Australian who beat Roy Emerson Monday after the champion hurt his shoulder in a fall, while Drysdale plays Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif.

Michael's Bombs Miller, 25-4

Chops Lindsay fanned 14 and slammed a homer and Boots Bytkins cracked three doubles as the hard-hitting Michael's Barber Shop squad crushed Miller's 25-4 in the Saugerties Softball League.

Lindsay's whiff total is the highest in the league in several years and brought his league leading total to 33.

Bob Myer had a triple for the winners and Bob Speirs, Bud Smad and Joe Benjamin had doubles. Lindsay was touched for a homer by Rich Greco and doubles by Bill Straus and Fred Seither.

Tonight, in a two-night double header, Anton's takes on Ted's at 6:30 o'clock and Dale's battles Southside Men's Club in the second game.

Clay Will Fight Mildenerger, London in Europe

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay will meet erratic, unranked Brian London in London Aug. 6 or 13 and Germany's Karl Mildenerger in Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 10 or 17 in an effort to cash in quickly on his popularity overseas.

Arthur Grafton, attorney for Clay's Louisville sponsoring group, and British promoter Lawrie Lewis Tuesday night confirmed The Associated Press' report that the London fight was all set for the indoor Wembley Stadium, which seats 12,000 on Aug. 6 the most likely date.

"It's all settled," said Grafton after a meeting with Lewis, who represents British promoter Jack Solomons.

Grafton and Lewis called a press conference for today to announce some of the details of the Clay-London fight.

"Yeah, I'm gonna fight the two of them," said Clay at a downtown movie house where he watched the telecast of the Ernie Terrell-Doug Jones fight at Houston, Tex., for Terrell's World Boxing Association heavyweight title, which Terrell retained.

The Mildenerger-Clay fight would depend on Clay's beating the 32-year-old former British champion. He'll be about a 15-1 favorite for that.

The fights also depend on Clay getting clearance from his draft board to go overseas. He is classified 1-A, making him subject to military call-up, but he has appealed his classification.

Willie McCovey, Brooks Robinson Poll Most Votes

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie McCovey, San Francisco first baseman, topped the National League vote getters for the 1966 All Star team with 214.

New York State Harness Roundup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bonjour Hanover set a national season record for 3-year-old pacing fillies Tuesday night with a 2:02 victory in the $12,900 Grand Circuit pace at Saratoga Raceway.

Miss Butler placed and Good Candy showed in the feature event in New York State harness racing. The victor paid $2.20.

Luscious Lou won the $14,000 second division in 2:06 1-5, defeating Fantabulous Wave and Jann, Donner and paying $13.

In featured races at other tracks:

—BUFFALO— Magic Goose ($15,000) was the victor in the $3,000 pace, going the distance in 2:06 2-5.

—VERNON— Kaycee Hanover ($9,800) won the $2,000 pace in 2:02 1-5.

A Fayetteville, N.Y., man won $15,974 on three horses in the twin double at Vernon. Track officials said he declined to reveal his name but they added he was the only ticket holder left who had picked victors by the end of the third race in the twin double. His fourth choice finished dead last.

—ROOSEVELT— Alytor won the $3,800 pace by three-quarters of a length. The mile was timed in 2:03 3-5.

Bankers Win 11th On Brown 2-Hitter

Teamwork is the name of the game and the Rondout National Bank proved that as they raced to their 11th straight victory in the American Little League, beating Frazer-Myer's Maytag, 17-2.

Joe Brown pitched a slick two-hitter and fanned ten while giving up six bases on balls. Joe might have given up a few more hits except for Chris (nothing gets past me) Hogan at second base who made two tremendous plays to turn sure hits into outs.

The Bankers loaded up the bases on three occasions and cashed in every time. Jim Milano slashed a double with the sacks bulging and Vin Serravallo and Rich Vertelis had bases loaded singles.

The Maytag pitchers, Ron Hull and Joe Costa gave up ten walks and their team committed several key errors behind them. The Bankers took full advantage of them.

Hull took the loss.

Stokes Tops Costello

Jack's Halt Armstrong Winning Streak, 1 to 0

Bill Stokes of Jack's Barber Shop outdueled Bill Costello of Armstrong's, 1-0, to end Armstrong's six-game winning streak in the City Softball League Tuesday.

Each pitcher allowed only two hits and struck out eight, but a single tally by Jack's in the fourth inning decided the brilliant pitching duel.

The victory left Royal Dukes all alone at the top of the heap with a 7-0 record and tied Jack's (6-2) with Subway Grill for third place.

Don Wells rapped a double and Bill Blackwell hit a single for Jack's Costello and John Armstrong each hit a single for Armstrong's.

Details on the winning run were not reported.

Eckert Predicts Four New Teams

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert says there is a possibility of a four-team expansion in the major leagues within five years.

The former Air Force general, speaking at a news conference, said Tuesday that expansion is inevitable, perhaps within two years and probably not more than eight years away.

"It's my desire to see that the fans' demand for major league baseball is satisfied," he said. "You want to narrow it down in terms of years, I think five years would be the right time period for further expansion."

The commissioner, in his first year as head of the majors, said most of the current expansion talk is coming from the press, pointing to the fact that the majors did undergo a recent 25 per cent expansion.

Eckert said it was his impression that the major league owners were "anything but cautious" in discussing the expansion issue.

He said it would not be in the public interest to add new clubs when they could not meet the current competition. Lack of good players slows expansion, he added.

Unseeded Player

In Quarter Final Of State Tennis

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — An unseeded 16-year-old has advanced to today's quarter-final round in the junior division of the New York State Junior and Boys' Tennis Championship by gaining a last-ditch victory over a ranking player.

John Adams of Haverford, Pa., trailing 5-2 in the third set, won five straight games Tuesday to oust eighth-seeded Jeff Podesta of Glen Ridge, N.J., 5-7, 6-4 and 7-5.

In other junior division play Tuesday, top-seeded Steve Siegel of Teaneck, N.J., defeated Bob McKinley of Nemor, 6-2, 6-1, and second ranked Dave Werchen of Whitehouse, downed Charles Schwartz of Roslyn, also by 6-2 and 6-1.

Five other ranking juniors also posted straight-set victories to gain berths in the quarter-finals today.

Hart's Toe Robs Bolin 0-Hit Bid

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

While dreams of a no-hitter danced in Bobby Bolin's head, Jim Ray Hart two-stepped his way into the San Francisco Giants' dugout chasing a pop foul. After that, the no-hit jig was up for Bolin.

Bolin, the strong-armed right-hander who has been something of a disappointment this year had set the St. Louis Cardinals down without a hit over 6 1-3 innings Tuesday night.

Then ex-Giant Orlando Cepeda lofted a foul fly off third. Hart drifted over and caught the ball. But the umpires ruled the third baseman was in the Giant dugout when he made the grab and nullified the apparent out.

That gave Cepeda another swing and the slugging first baseman ruined Bolin's no-hit bid with a single. Bolin surrendered only one other hit en route to a 7-1 victory.

Mays Raps 523rd

The Giants, who won their 13th game in the last 17, backed Bolin with a 13-hit attack that included Willie Mays' 18th homer and the 523rd of his National League career.

The victory kept San Francisco's National League lead at four games over Pittsburgh which downed Houston 4-3. Jim Bunning pitched a two-hitter for Philadelphia as the Phillies nipped the New York Mets 1-0. Cincinnati dropped Los Angeles 3-1 and Atlanta whipped Chicago 4-2 in other games.

Bob Veale scattered eight hits as the Pirates kept pace with front-running San Francisco by beating Houston.

Run-scoring singles by Roberto Clemente and Jose Pagan in the fifth inning put Pittsburgh in front for good as Veale blanked the Astros over the last six innings.

White's Homer Wins

Bunning, who pitched a perfect game in New York two years ago, allowed the Mets only two singles — both of them in the fifth inning — and got the only run he needed on Bill White's two-out homer in the seventh.

Bob Friend, the Mets' starter, also allowed only two hits but was charged with the loss, his first since coming to New York two weeks ago.

Streaking Cincinnati won its 10th game in the last 11 as Sammy Ellis limited the Dodgers to five hits. It was the third straight victory for Ellis since returning to the Reds starting rotation.

Joe Torre drove in three runs with a single and his 17th home accounting for half of Atlanta's hits against Chicago's Ken Holtzman. Clay Carroll pitched six innings of shutout relief and got credit for the victory, his third in five decisions.

Stuhler Second In PGA Standing

Frank Stuhler, the veteran Antlers Country Club (Amsterdam) pro has moved into second place in the Molsen Limited Points standing of the Northeastern New York PGA.

With 51 points, Stuhler trails the leader, Claude Young of Winding Brook, by five and is two ahead of Ralph Montoya of Little Falls Country Club.

Scotty Robertson of Wiltwyck Country Club is in a tie for 14th place with 32 points. Jim Hutchins, Woodstock, has 26, and Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill, 14.

Other leaders:

Ten KC players have departed since spring training — including 1965 favorites John Wyatt, Wayne Causey and Ken Harrelson — but Dark is getting mileage out of newcomers Danny Cater (White Sox), Roger Repox (Yankees) and Jim Gosger (Red Sox).

Cater and Gosger each doubled in a run against the Orioles Tuesday night while rookie Chuck Dobson and relievers Ken Sanders and Jack Aker checked the league leaders on six hits.

Detroit clobbered California 15-3, Minnesota blanked Cleveland 4-0 and Washington beat Chicago 4-1 in other AL games.

The Athletics snapped Baltimore's three-game winning streak by grabbing a 4-1 lead and then holding off the Orioles. Bert Campaneris singled in the first inning off loser Jim Palmer and doubles by Cater and Gosger produced two runs.

Home runs by George Thomas and Mike Ryan, coupled with five Yankee errors, helped the Red Sox down New York behind the six-hit pitching of Jose Santiago, who survived two home runs by Mickey Mantle.

Mantle Raps Two

Mantle smashed a two-run homer in the first inning and hit the ninth of the season with the bases empty in the eighth.

Willie Horton paced a 20-hit Detroit assault with two singles and a homer, driving in five runs as the Tigers climbed within 2 1/2 games of the league lead. Jake Wood knocked in four runs with three singles while Al Kaline and Norm Cash also homered for the Tigers.

Camilo Pascual and Al Worthington subdued Cleveland on five hits as the Twins rolled to their fourth victory in a row. Pascual worked seven innings before his arm stiffened and Worthington allowed one hit in finishing up. Tony Oliva, Cesar Tovar and Harmon Killebrew produced Minnesota runs with a homer, triple and double, respectively.

The Senators breezed past Chicago as left-hander Mike McCormick scattered five hits and belted a homer. Don Lock cracked a three-run homer for Washington while Bill Skowron had a homer, double and single for the White Sox.

GM Dismissed

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Jerry Krause of Chicago was dismissed Tuesday as general manager of the Portland Beavers of the Pacific Coast League and succeeded by Will Hudson.

William Moore, president of the Beavers, described the dismissal as the result of a personality conflict.

Beat Carlos Ortiz

NEW YORK (AP) — Carlos Ortiz, the world lightweight boxing champion, lost his bid Tuesday night for the Democratic nomination to a state Senate district encompassing parts of New York City. Ortiz was third with more than 80 per cent of the districts reporting.

K of C Wins, 12-7; Kiwanis, KPA Tied

Knights of Columbus pitcher, Gary Schatzel's 4-hit, 13 strike-out hurling led his team to a 12-7 win over Food Fair in a Babe Ruth League baseball game. In the other game, KPA rallied for six runs in the last of the seventh inning to tie the game up and that's how it was when it was called because of darkness: Kiwanis-6, KPA-6.

Jack McGowan, right fielder for Kiwanis, slammed a home run. Nick Ascienzo and Mike Jordan gave up only two hits between them.

In the Food Fair-K of C game, Pete Kooha had two hits including a triple. Kevin Murphy, the losing pitcher, had two hits.

LOVELY

Six flights of Air Force F105 Thunderbolts struck the petroleum complex three miles across the Red River from the center of Hanoi, using 750-pound bombs during the 25-minute attack, the U.S. spokesman said. He said the area around the 32 tanks had no sizable population.

Four flights of Navy jets from the 7th Fleet carriers Constellation and Ranger raided the oil facilities at Haiphong, two miles from the center of the city. The spokesman said 95 per cent of the fuel going into North Viet Nam moves through the depot, which contains 38 tanks above and below ground. The raid lasted eight minutes.

About 4 Aircraft

A flight usually numbers about four aircraft.

The American pilots ran into intensive antiaircraft fire over Hanoi but said they encountered little flak in the Haiphong area.

The Communists did not send up any MIG fighters to challenge the U.S. fighter-bombers nor were any surface-to-air missiles sighted, the spokesman said.

U.S. planes have been gradually tightening a noose around Hanoi and its port, which lies 65 miles to the east. There has been pressure in some quarters in Washington for an aerial offensive against the cities of Hanoi and Haiphong themselves.

Only Tuesday, the White House declined to comment on reports circulating in Washington that President Johnson had canceled air strikes against Hanoi and Haiphong in the past five days because of security leaks.

Adds to Cost

The U.S. Command's communique on the attack said the destruction of the oil facilities would "make infiltration of men and supplies into South Viet Nam more costly and more difficult." It said the raids were ordered after consultation with the South Vietnamese government and were "consistent with our continuing policy of bombing only military targets in North Viet Nam."

They followed three successive days of bombardment of fuel storage areas in other parts of North Viet Nam. There were also three days of similar strikes last week.

"The petroleum facilities in Hanoi and Haiphong have become vital in supporting the mounting North Vietnamese aggression against the south and therefore are prime military targets," the communique said.

At Heartland

The Hanoi-Haiphong area is the heartland of North Viet Nam's small industrial plant and its principal population center. Hanoi has about 650,000 people and Haiphong 370,000. Many women, children and elderly persons have been evacuated from the area.

The U.S. spokesman said "everything would indicate no significant civilian casualties were involved." The strike was authorized for good visibility only so the target could clearly be seen, he said. The raids were between noon and 1:40 p.m.

The U.S. Command also announced successful raids Tuesday on the supply routes from Hanoi to Red China, reporting U.S. planes destroyed the Viet Tri railroad and highway bridge 27 miles northwest of Hanoi and a bridge 35 miles north of the capital.

The Air Force credited Capt. Elias Casillas, 34, of Santa Monica, Calif., and Lt. Michael I. Brazelton of Inglewood, Calif., with knocking out the Viet Tri Bridge. Aerial photographs showed three spans were down.

Led Raid

Air Force Maj. D. E. Hornsby, 41, of Little Marsh, Pa., led the planes that hit the other bridge.

The Air Force and Navy flew 78 missions over North Viet Nam Tuesday. In addition to the two bridges, U.S. pilots hit fuel storage areas, rail lines, tanneries, trucks, boxcars and radar sites, mostly in the southern panhandle. One Air Force strike was against a radar site 15 miles northwest of Hanoi.

At dawn today, U.S. B52 bombers plastered two enemy troop and supply areas in South Viet Nam. One wave rained bombs 20 miles southwest of Hue in the northern province of Thua Thien. Another wave hammered at a highland area 35 miles west of Pleiku close to the Cambodian border.

U.S. and Vietnamese pilots flew a total of 569 single-plane sorties in the south Tuesday.

In one of two seall U.S. ground actions, an American Special Forces unit spotted a platoon of about 30 Viet Cong Tuesday 15 miles southwest of Chu Lai. The "Green Berets" called in an air strike and later found 10 Viet Cong dead in the target area. The Special Forces unit also captured five Viet Cong while suffering no casualties themselves, a spokesman said.

Ran Into Ambush

An 11-man squad of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division ran into a

Completes Training

Seaman Recruit Ricardo K. Fernandez, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joaquin F. Fernandez, Fox Hollow Road, Shandaken, has completed seven weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian to sailor, he was taught and supervised by experienced Navy petty officers. He learned the basic skills of seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other basic subjects.

Upon completion of his current recruit training, he was assigned to a school, shore station or ship, according to the results of his Navy classification tests, his own desires, and the needs of the Navy.

Will Swear . . .

friction developed between them. Ongania retired last November but retained a dominant figure in military circles.

The military takeover may prevent the Inter-American Conference of Foreign Ministers being held in Buenos Aires Aug. 29 as scheduled.

Suspends Relations

The United States and a number of other hemisphere nations suspended relations with Argentina after the coup. The State Department expressed regret at "the break in continuity of democratic constitutional government in Argentina." It said Washington will consult with other nations in the Organization of American States on future recognition.

Some Latin-American diplomats speculated the foreign ministers' parley may be moved to Washington or some other hemisphere capital. The OAS set the date for the Buenos Aires conference only two days ago, one of its major tasks, ironically, is to rewrite the OAS charter to strengthen the Inter-American system against military coups.

The coup also leaves up in the air Illia's proposal for a summit meeting of the presidents of the American republics in Buenos Aires sometime this year to promote the Alliance for Progress program of economic and social development. President Johnson recently announced support for Illia's suggestion.

Diplomatic sources in Montevideo said Uruguayan authorities made no secret the Argentine coup displeased them. Uruguayan Foreign Minister Luis Cival Zaglio said Illia was expected to take up exile there. Vice President Carlos Perette fled to Uruguay during the coup.

The junta broadcast a communique at intervals accusing Illia's regime of tarnishing Argentina's reputation abroad, allowing strikes to paralyze public services and hesitating to put through needed economic reforms. It said Illia's policies were aimed solely at getting votes.

The junta's first two decrees Tuesday night formalized Illia's ouster. One decree declared the president had been substituted by the President Perette removed from office and Congress dissolved. The other vacated the Supreme Court.

Refused to Resign

Illia, 65, a country doctor who was elected in 1963 to a six-year term, refused to resign during the night-long takeover while armed forces units occupied key buildings and installations in the capital. He finally left Casa Rosada, the pink stone government palace, after soldiers prodded him with rifle butts and threatened to throw tear gas bombs into his office.

The Argentine public, which has witnessed the overthrow of eight presidents by the military since 1943, reacted with apathy approaching boredom to the latest coup.

Viet Cong ambush at midnight seven miles southwest of Cu Chi. A U.S. spokesman said casualties were heavy. The Americans apparently were caught in the open.

Another engagement took place in Quang Tin Province, 348 miles northeast of Saigon, when 50 Viet Cong ambushed a small unit of regional force soldiers. Vietnamese army regulars quickly reinforced the regional unit and reported killing 16 Viet Cong and capturing one. Vietnamese and regional casualties were listed as moderate.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market decline deepened in moderate trading early this afternoon.

First reaction to the stepped up U.S. bombing of oil installations near Hanoi and Haiphong was relatively calm.

Brokers said the 16-point loss of the Dow Jones industrial average Tuesday and Monday apparently had considerably discounted the expected bombings.

Some brokers said they considered a new test of the May lows for the Dow Jones industrial average to be in full swing.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon had lost .8 to 316.4 with industrials off 1.6, rails off .4 and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was off 5.57 at 875.33.

Prices were slightly higher at the opening but a gradual erosion set in.

Aircrafts, electronics and airlines were particularly weak.

Boeing and Douglas lost more than a point among the aircrafts. Zenith fell a point and Sperry Rand was off about half a point. Eastern Air Lines dropped more than 2 points and Pan American World Airways, American Airlines and United Air Lines were down about 1 1/2.

General Motors, Ford and American Motors lost about half a point.

General Electric fell more than 2 points and IBM lost 3. Losses of a point or so were taken by Air Reduction, Polaroid, Xerox and Merck.

Prices declined in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

RFK Looms . . .

face Rep. Lester L. Wolff, the Democrat who defeated him two years ago, in the November election.

In Brooklyn, the powerful Democratic organization beat down two strong challenges against Rep. Edna Kelly, a Democratic national committee woman, and Rep. Abraham Multer.

Kennedy encouraged Silverman to enter the race for Manhattan surrogate last month after the New York County Republican organization followed Tammany Hall in endorsing Klein.

Is Very Jubilant

Kennedy was jubilant at Silverman campaign headquarters as his candidate claimed victory. The senator flew to Washington as the polls opened on a hot, humid afternoon. He returned shortly before the polls closed at 10 p.m. to cast his first primary vote since taking up residence in Manhattan last year.

He said the victory would free the selection of judges from political control. The surrogate's Court dispenses millions of dollars in legal work to attorneys in cases involving wills, estates and special guardianships.

To Democratic politicians, however, the victory was a reflection of Kennedy's political popularity with the voters and spotlighted his ability to make his power felt in local elections.

Although Klein lost to Silverman, the political impact of the race was felt most by the Tammany leader, J. Raymond Jones, only Negro county chairman in the United States, Jones charged Kennedy injected himself in the race as a "personal vendetta" because Jones supports President Johnson and has endorsed former Mayor Robert F. Wagner for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The final unofficial tally of Silverman's surprisingly strong showing gave him 70,771 votes. Klein received 47,625 and a third candidate, Criminal Court Judge Thomas Rohan, received 8,084.

Silverman's win was believed to have aided city Councilman Theodore Weiss' upset of Rep. Leonard Farberstein in a contest where Weiss made the Viet Nam war the key issue. Farberstein supported President Johnson's policy while Weiss, a reform Democrat, called for an immediate cease-fire and peace negotiations with the Viet Cong.

Weiss' unofficial tally showed him 61 votes ahead of Farberstein. The final count was Weiss, 17,385; Farberstein, 17,324.

McNamara Says

was to "save the lives" of the South Vietnamese, Americans

Australians and South Koreans fighting in South Viet Nam.

The action, McNamara said, was a response to a swift and rising North Vietnamese buildup in south Viet Nam which has converted the fighting there into a "quasi-conventional war operation."

That buildup, he said, has made the North Vietnamese forces and their Viet Cong allies increasingly dependent on truck movement of heavy supplies, increasing the strategic importance of fuel.

McNamara said more than 60 per cent of North Viet Nam's oil storage facilities were in the three target areas hit.

Other Pentagon sources said that prior to today's devastating strikes only 15 per cent of North Viet Nam's petroleum facilities had been knocked out in recent intensified raids.

McNamara emphasized that the United States' policy is to attack only military targets in North Viet Nam and targets of support.

With a pointer, he traced infiltration routes from North Viet Nam through Laos and into South Viet Nam. And he pointed to a picture of 51 trucks in a convoy to indicate the "substantial volume" of infiltration and the "growing importance" of petroleum to supply the war in the south.

In recent weeks, he said, North Viet Nam has been trying to realign its petroleum facilities. He showed pictures of excavation sites and said in some instances the North Vietnamese had camouflaged the oil facilities.

At Old Dutch Church

The summer schedule of art classes at Old Dutch Church starts Thursday.

Classes in all mediums are conducted 1:30 to 3:30 and 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Thursday and 10:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. Saturdays under the direction of Dennis Berardinelli, instructor.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the church office.

Tanker Explodes

between New Jersey and Staten Island. The inquiry was suspended when the word was received.

Fire Chief John O'Hagen blamed the latest explosion on oxygen mixed with the Naphtha being pumped from the tanker in temperatures that reached 101 degrees in the past two days.

Battalion Fire Chief James Higgins inspected the twice-burned ship and reported "it was pretty ugly."

"It looked like a vessel that had been under fire in an invasion," he said.

Salt water and inert gas was pumped into the Alva Cape to avert further explosions after fire commissioner Robert O. Lowery warned that the cargo was still volatile.

As they had less than two weeks ago in the Kill van Kull, firefighters rushed Tuesday to the explosion scene in Gravesend Bay, dodging fire and smoke to pour foam on the burning tanker.

Take 10 From Water

The tug Susan Moran, which had towed the Alva Cape to Gravesend Bay after the collision, removed 10 persons from the newly burning tanker.

Just before the Coast Guard inquiry into the collision was interrupted by word of the new fire, the docking pilot of the Alva Cape testified that there would have been no crash if the Texaco Massachusetts had "held its course and speed."

The pilot, Capt. Donald W. Baker, 45, of Massapequa Park, N.Y., said he had been watching the American tanker and never expected a collision until a minute before it happened.

Three or four minutes before the collision, Baker testified, "it looked like we were going to pass and he was going to cross ahead of my bow."

Then, he said, "I heard a lot of shouting on the bridge of the Texaco Massachusetts. I heard a lot of mouth whistles telling nearby tugs to back away. I knew then we were going to have a collision."

NEW YORK (AP) — Coast Guard and police officials identified these dead and injured in Tuesday's explosion and fire on the British tanker Alva Cape:

Parent Seeks Advice On Present to Daughter

Q) "I have 447 shares of New England Tel. & Tel. I have thought of giving 50 shares to my daughter and her husband, who have very little invested. I have large holdings in Commonwealth Edison and Northern Illinois Gas and other good stocks. Should I give my children something else?" E. L.

A) Your daughter and her husband are very fortunate to be able to benefit from your generosity. New England Telephone is a very high-grade Bell System subsidiary, but it is a stock for high yield rather than growth.

Unless your daughter needs to supplement her income, I would give her 50 shares of Northern Illinois Gas, which is currently depressed in price like most other utilities, but which has a long and consistent record of strong earnings and dividend gains. I believe that over a period of time this issue will work out well for them from a growth standpoint.

Q) "I would like to know how much interest I would get on Series H savings bonds. I understand they pay interest semi-annually. I have several thousand dollars in the bank and at present I am getting only three per cent interest." F.S.

A) It is always a pleasure to discuss savings bonds which are important to our Federal financing picture and are good holdings for most investors. The present rate to maturity on Series H bonds is 4.15 per cent and the interest is paid—as you say—semi-annually by check from the Treasury Department. Interest is subject to Federal income tax but not to similar levies imposed by the states.

Series H bonds are redeemable at par value—any time after six months of holding—at any Federal Reserve Bank or at the U. S. Treasury upon one month's written notice. Savings bonds are the only Government securities that provide guaranteed stability and cannot fluctuate in price.

Governor Plans Parley on Drugs, Police Training

ALBANY — Drug addiction and police training, emphasized by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller as two major areas in New York State's war on crime and violence, will be discussed before 500 correctional workers at general sessions of the 17th annual Frederick A. Moran Memorial Institute on Crime and Delinquency at St. Lawrence University, Canton, July 10-15.

Patrick V. Murphy, assistant director, Division of Law Enforcement Assistance, U. S. Department of Justice, will speak July 11. At the session on drug addiction on July 14, the speaker will be Dr. Robert Osnos, director of psychiatry (courts), New York City Community Mental Health Board.

Murphy, former Syracuse chief of police and New York City police official, will discuss the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Act of 1965.

Earlier this year at the two-day Governor's Conference on Crime, Governor Rockefeller announced that New York State had received two of the first grants under this act: $50,000 for The New York State Municipal Police Training Council to help the state establish the nation's first chain of regional police training centers, and $180,000 for State Identification and Intelligence system to finance automatic license plate scanning equipment.

Warm, Dry Weather For Next Five Days

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecast for Upstate New York, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from Thursday through Monday:

It will be warm and mainly dry. The current heat wave will persist, with little day-to-day change. Rainfall will be spotty and generally light. There will be a chance of a few scattered afternoon or evening thunderstorms Friday through the weekend. Prospects for rainfall are more likely by early next week.

Daytime highs will be mainly in the 80s to low 90s. Nighttime lows will be in the upper 60s to 70s.

To Address Teachers

Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the Fund for the Republic and its center for the study of democratic institutions, will address the 600 members attending the Biennial Convention of the National Retired Teachers Association. Three hundred of these members will be voting delegates from the 50 states. The convention is being held in Minneapolis, Minn., July 6-9, at the Hotel Radisson.

Dr. Hutchins received national fame as president of the University of Chicago, a position he accepted in 1929. He became its chancellor in 1945 and remained there until 1951.

Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus, founder and president of NRTA and an alumna of the University of Chicago, says "It was during this period that the innovations in higher education in America, for which Dr. Hutchins is internationally known, were undertaken."

WOODSTOCK NEWS

Estates Drawing Seasonal Crowds

Summer has swung into full stride at the Woodstock Estates Swim and Tennis Club now that youngsters are officially on vacation from school. Temperatures in the 90s, children newly freed from classrooms and the return of summer residents from the metropolitan area sent business booming this week.

Woodstock Estates, now in its third year of operation locally, is as relaxing, informal and charming as ever, but there is an extra added accent on youth this season. Well organized behind the scenes, there is no stinting on fun in the filtered pool, on the deluxe size tennis courts, across the acres and acres of playground space or in the attractive club room.

Sara Springer, owner of the Estates, who managed every facet of its operation for two years running, is still on hand and on call. She has chosen, however, to remain mostly in the background this season; has given over the active management to a trio of competent and friendly newcomers. At the managerial helm for the 1966 season are Mrs. Chris Morris and her collegian sons, Tony and Steve. Without changing the atmosphere of the Estates, they've made several innovations that add up to even more outdoor fun and relaxation.

Snack Bar Is New
New this year is a snack bar, a vital necessity for hungry swimmers and tennis players. An instant hit with youngsters, it's located in the club room and has plenty of table space. Under the direction of Mrs. Morris, whose culinary skills with high protein, homemade bread once drew praise from diners at Kingston's Dutch Rathskeller and were utilized by Bobcock's Dairy, an efficient staff offers hamburgers, hot dogs, milk shakes and cold beverages.

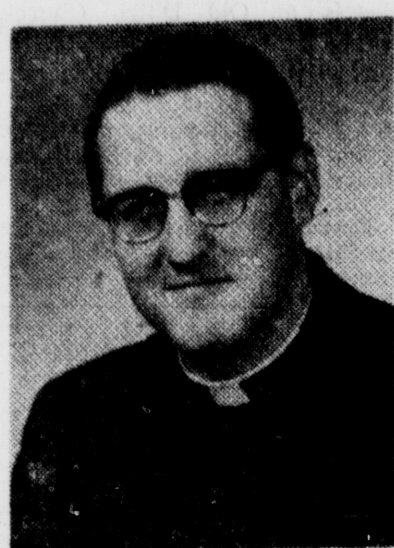

The vacation-perfect Estates offers trained lifeguards and swimming instruction, with lessons available at the pine rimmed pool—and unexcelled tennis courts, where a long-time Forest Hills pro and a college champion teach adults and children alike. The club room with its large stone fireplace and outdoor terrace offers repose and tree-shaded lawns furnish room for games of all types, in addition to a wide variety of playground equipment.

The Estates also has wide appeal for large organizations planning picnics. Already this summer, Woodstock firemen and their families have utilized the facilities; Centerville firemen are booked shortly; and a group of collegians is on the waiting list.

Membership Available
Membership in this unique club is available for the whole family or the individual for the summer season (through Labor Day weekend) or by the month.

Spontaneous fun in the water or out is the keynote at the Woodstock Estates Swim and Tennis Club this year and the new collaboration between Sara Springer and the Morrisses assures just that.

THE REV. T. L. HAYES
Announce Speaker At Revolutionary Affair July 3rd

Guest speaker at "A Revolutionary Affair," the unusual event to be held Sunday, July 3, at 3 p. m., at the Maverick Gallery, Woodstock, will be the Rev. Thomas Lee Hayes, executive director of the Episcopal Peace Fellowship, New York City. The Rev. Mr. Hayes will appear here under the sponsorship of the Ad Hoc July Fourth Committee.

He graduated from Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass., in 1957 where he was awarded his S.T.B. degree. He received his A.B. degree from Oberlin College, majoring in psychology and later attended the State University of Iowa for graduate work in clinical psychology. He was a research assistant at the Psychopathic Hospital in Iowa City and then attended Bexley Hall, Kenyon College in Ohio.

An active humanist, the Rev. Mr. Hayes was World Relief Secretary in the Diocese of Pittsburgh; Chairman of the World Refugee Year Special Projects Committee in Pittsburgh; co-founder and first chairman of the Pittsburgh Area Clergy for World Order and a member of the American Committee for the Christian Peace Conference. The Rev. Mr. Hayes is also active in numerous other groups seeking to establish world order and peace. Prior to engaging in his duties as Executive Director of the Episcopal Peace Fellowship, he was rector at St. Thomas-in-the-Fields in Gibsonia, Pa.

The Rev. Mr. Hayes is known to many area residents as the engaging speaker presiding at the third Workshop on Viet Nam held in Woodstock at St. Gregory's Church.

Gratifying widespread interest has been shown in the "Affair" and early arrival to this unique event is urged. Tickets will be available at the door.

According to the magazine article, this custom was more or less abandoned following the Civil War when fireworks became a national craze. In the present day, fireworks have been banned in many states, and a return to the custom of ringing the bells is being promoted nationally.

"When people hear our church bell at 2 p. m. on July 4, they are not to become alarmed. Rather they might pause and consider the freedom which they enjoy because of this country of ours," said Miss Stone in announcing the ringing of the church bell in Shady.

Maverick Gallery Plans a Program Of Yoga, Lessons

A demonstration of Hatha Yoga will be given in person, as well as illustrated by slides, by Yarosha on Saturday night, July 2, at 9 p. m., at the Maverick Gallery. Yarosha has had unusual training in this field. Born in East Europe in 1936, he was deported as a child, along with his family, to Siberia, and from then on had many homes in Teheran, Karachi, several years in Tanganyika, and attended high school in England and France. He received his B.A. in Paris and then went to India, where he got his M.A. in Indian Philosophy at the University of Madras, where he is presently working on a Ph.D. in Yoga.

For more than five years in India he studied Hatha Yoga at different institutions with different gurus; at Sivananda's Ashram in Rishikesh, at Aurobindo's Ashram in South India, at Ramana Maharishi's Ashram in South India at the Yoga College in Lonava, near Poona, at Kuvayalanda Institute in Bombay, and at the Yogendra Institute of Yoga in Santa Cruz, Bombay. However most of his formal training was done under two famous gurus: T. Krishnamacharya in Madras, and B.K.S. Iyengar, whose book, "Light on Yoga," has just been published by George Allen and Unwin in London.

Yarosha has been teaching Hatha Yoga in Switzerland and France for the past year, at the Schild Sheploff Institute and the Helles School of Movement and Harmony. He has lectured on Yoga and India in Paris and Brussels. He is now teaching privately in New York, and at Ananda Ashram, in Monroe.

Yarosha will be giving lessons in Yoga at the Maverick Gallery Sundays in July and August, beginning July 10. The Maverick Gallery is reached by turning right off Route 212 just past the Woodstock golf course onto Chestnut Hill Road. The Yoga demonstration on July 2 is open to all who are interested. There will be no admission fee but contributions only.

Werner Sculpture Exhibited Here By Gladstone's

Gladstone Galleries in Woodstock announces the opening, on Saturday, July 2, of a special exhibit of the work of the nationally known sculptor, Nat Werner. This exhibit, titled "Stone and Iron by Werner" promises to be an exciting event on the Woodstock art scene.

The Werner sculptures to be displayed present a variety of intriguing subjects, executed in iron and stone. Werner's creations include classic figures, musical themes and personalities, and torsos and heads in marble and alabaster.

Werner has exhibited in all the major museums of the United States, including the Metropolitan Museum, Museum of Modern Art, Whitney Museum, Chicago Art Institute, etc. He has had many one-man exhibits in New York galleries over the past 25 years and has won numerous awards for his sculptures. Werner's works are in the permanent collections of the Whitney Museum, Lyman Allen Museum in New London, Tel Aviv Museum, etc.; also in the collections of Joseph Hirshhorn, Otto Spaeath and Billy Rose. His works have also been reproduced in many books on contemporary sculpture.

In conjunction with this sculpture exhibit, Gladstone Galleries will also have a group show of paintings and drawings by artists of the gallery. Both exhibits will continue through July 15.

Rummage Event Will Benefit Vols

Saturday, July 2, beginning at 10 a. m., the annual rummage and food sale conducted by the Ladies Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3 will open at the Lake Hill firehouse.

Each year the Ladies Auxiliary sponsors the rummage and food sale with the proceeds used for the purchase of equipment for the fire company, or other activities supported by the women's organization.

Auxiliary president Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey said that the excellent support of this sale in past years has enabled the Auxiliary to help in the purchase of much needed equipment for both fire apparatus and the firehouse. These purchases include the resuscitator available through the fire company for persons having difficulty in breathing due to sickness. There have been numerous calls in the past two years for this resuscitator, said the women's group president.

Shady Bells Will Ring Out July 4

On July 4 at 2 p. m. the bell in the steeple of the Methodist Church of Shady will ring for freedom.

This was announced today as the result of action taken by the Official Board of the church, by Miss Evelyn Stone, chairman of the board.

The ringing of bells on July 4, "ringing for freedom," has been promoted nationally this year by Reader's Digest magazine. It is a return to an old custom in vogue prior to the Civil War when bells throughout the nation were rung on the birthday of the nation to signify the freedom of the United States to all people.

There will be no admission fee but contributions only.

Backed by Kennedy

Silverman Rolled Up Sleeves and Won

NEW YORK (AP) — Samuel Joshua Silverman, hand-picked candidate of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, won the Democratic primary for Manhattan Surrogate by breaking the tradition of judicial campaigning.

Silverman, following the example of Kennedy, unloosened his tie, doffed his jacket, rolled up his sleeves and waved like the winner Kennedy predicted he would become.

Early today, when Silverman claimed victory in the contest, Kennedy told campaign workers of the candidate's reaction to his argument that he run. "He told me in a ruthless manner," Kennedy quipped. "Just you remember, Mr. Kennedy, Silverman don't finish second."

Silverman, 57, more the scholar than the athlete, strained to keep up with Kennedy's pace. Often Kennedy had to wait for the Supreme Court Justice to catch up to him in whirlwind walks through Harlem, Hell's Kitchen and Greenwich Village.

Drew Natural Interest

The victor in Tuesday's primary — which drew national interest because of Kennedy's support of Silverman against the regular Democratic organization-candidate — was born in Odessa, Russia, and grew up on the Lower East Side. He worked his way through Columbia College, graduating Phi Beta Kappa in 1928, and Columbia Law School in 1930.

Silverman left a lucrative law practice to accept the Democratic nomination for the Supreme Court in 1963, at the urging of one of the members of his law firm, Edward N. Costykian, then the leader of Tammany Hall.

Costykian was succeeded by J. Raymond Jones, a Harlem councilman backed by then Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Jones, first Negro county chair.

Ontora Board Sets Reorganization Meet

Although Ontora Central Schools have closed for summer vacation, the business of the local Board of Education goes on as usual. The board will hold a special meeting Tuesday, July 5, at 8 p. m., in the Central Building, Boiceville. The session will be the annual reorganization meeting and members will nominate candidates for president and vice-president of the board for the coming year. In addition, various officers of the School District will be appointed, including the district treasurer, attorney and tax collector.

man in the United States, has charged that Kennedy's support of Silverman was in reality an attempt to oust him as New York county leader because he favors Wagner for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Silverman scoffs at the political implications of the Kennedy thrust in his behalf, insisting that he and Kennedy seek only to prevent any "deal" between Democrats and Republicans for doling out legal patronage from the Surrogate Court.

Will Appoint Lawyers

The soft-spoken jurist insisted in his campaigning that he would appoint lawyers to handle guardianships, estates and wills on the basis of ability. The fees charged by lawyers will be cut substantially, he promises.

Surrogates have traditionally appointed attorneys to cases from an unofficial list provided by the political organizations. Through the years the city's reform Democrats have complained that the list was limited to relatives of other judges, legislators, and lawyers with political connections.

Silverman pledged to do away with that system. He also made another campaign pledge, that he will try to merge the Surrogate's Court with the Supreme Court and possibly do away with the job he is virtually assured of winning in November.
